SAVED BY SEAWEED.

A Girl Who Falls Down a Mountain Into the Sea Survives.

Los Angeles, Aug. 24—A singular accident and remarkable escape from death happened at Catalina Tuesday to Miss Grace Pitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pitney, of this city. She climbed to the top of Sugar Loaf Mountain, which overlooks the Bay of Catalina, and saw some friends starting out for a sail. The venturesome girl stood on the apex of the peak and called to her friends in the boat wavering her handkerchief to them.

Suddenly her friends, who were nearly 300 feet below, saw her step sideways off the peak and roll down the mountain. Her descent was plainly visible to those on the water. She had rolled fifty feet or so when she struck some brush and was thrown into the air. In striving the mountain side again, she fell upon some more brush and rolled down the mountain into the waters of the bay. She did not sink, but remained motionless on the surface of the bay. She had landed on a bed of kelp of sufficient thickness to sustain her weight. Though rendered unconscious by her fall, the sustaining power of the seaweed kept her from drowning until she was rescued. The girl was little injured, except that her left leg was fractured near the ankle.

Christian Endeavorers Meet.

Erie, Pa., August 25.—Sunday sunrise prayer meetings were held everywhere in Erie by the Christian Endeavors and the city was aroused at an unusually early hour. The leading clergymen in attendance at the convention officiated in the city pulpits. This afternoon the Endeavorers divided themselves up into bodies of a hundred or more and held open air prayers and praise meetings in the groves and places of usual Sunday revels. The effect was a general revival all over the city; devotees of Bacchus and Terpsichore in the groves gave up the mazes of the dance and came to hear devout men speak and pray. Tonight the convention was closed and a grand concert held. A choir of 250 led the praise meeting.

President J. McCreery, D. D., of Pittsburg, and Rev. Charles Reade, of Philadelphia, spoke appealingly to the immense throng which filled the tent and spread out over the square numbering nearly 10,000. With this service the convention closed.

To Start Monday.

Beaver Falls, Aug. 24.—On Monday next the Great Western File Works, which were recently purchased by the Nicholson File Company, will be placed in operation after having been idle for over three years. Three hundred and fifty men and girls will be put to work, which is more than ever employed at the plant before.

Since purchasing the plant the present owners have expended about $30,000 in improvements and repairs. There is the greatest rejoicing over the resumption of work at the file shops, which have been idle so long.

Big Fire in a New York Town

Kingston, N. Y., August 25.—Early this morning fire started in a barn at Rosendale, about eight miles south of this city, and spread both up and down Main street. Twenty-five buildings were totally destroyed, and a dozen dwellings on the opposite side of Main street more less damaged. Among the buildings destroyed were the Reformed church and parsonage. The loss will reach $125,000, with about $60,000 insurance.

One Result of a Divorce.

Malden, Mass., August 25.—Daniel J. McLeod, a carpenter, this afternoon shot his wife, Mary McLeod, seriously wounding her, and then instantly killed himself. Mrs. McLeod and her husband have not lived together for some time and about six months ago she obtained a divorce. Since then he has tried to induce her to live with him. To-day she started for a walk when McLeod overtook her and wanted her to walk with him. She refused and the shooting followed.

Fawcett, in Handbook of Finance, pages 146 to 148, says:

The decline of prices since 18,2-73 is explained by the increased value of gold. The first offence was to cause a collapse in "speculative securities" viz., bonds of railroads, etc., which were based on the expectations of a continuance of high priced for commodities, or in other words, a low value for gold.

But if an increase in the numbers and industries of men coexists with a diminution in the circulating medium by which their transactions are carried on, the most serious evils await society and the whole rotations of its different classes to each other will be speedily changed, and it is in that state of things that the saying proves true, "that the rich are every day growing richer, and the poor poorer."—Allison's History of Europe.

Victoria's Household.

Queen Victoria's household is a large one, consisting of just under a thousand persons, for the maintenance of whom the nation sets apart the sum of $2,300,000 every year. Most of the offices are sinecures of fixture for life.

Some of the posts are entirely ornamental, and others have very little duty attached to them. Probably the only additions to the household since the time of Henry VIII, are to steam apparatus men.

Although there is no longer a royal barge, nor any pageantry on the Thames, there are still a barge master and a waterman with a salary each of $2,000 a year.

There are four table deckers, whose sole duty is to lay the dinner cloth and see that the plates, dishes and cultry are fairly set forth.

There is also a wax fitter, who see the candles properly disposed and a first and second lamplighter, who receive $500 a year.

Then there is the "keeper of swans,' who annually pockets $150 for looking after the sacred birds on the royal waters.

Lastly there is the 'queer's rat catcher,' who is especially attached to the Bucking ham palace. His salary, $75, is provided outside the civil list. Every session of the house of commons, in committee of supply, considers this vote specially and gravely agrees to the charge.

The Tobacco War.

The present war existing between the big plug tobacco manufacturers is proving very interesting for consumers, they being the only ones who are profiting by this war. The manufacturers are unquestionably losing a great deal of money, and, as far as we can see, the whole cause of the war, is on account of a brand of plug tobacco called "Battle Ax," which appears to be as powerful a weapon at its name implies. The manufacturers of "Battle Ax" claim it to be the largest piece of high-grade goods ever sold for the money. And the success of the brand, the enormous quantity which is being sold, clearly demonstrates that the consumers have not been slow in detecting the fact that they have a bargain. This has caused the demand for other heretofore popular brands to b greatly diminished. Hence the present great tobacco war.

The P. O. S. of A.

Allentown, Pa., August 27.—The thirtieth annual convention of the Patriotic Order Sons of America of Pennsylvania, began this morning in the Academy of Music. Mayor Allison welcomed the body and State President Huth, of Shamokin, responded.

The enrollment at the opening session was: Officers 10; past state presidents 15 incorporators 8; trustees 6; district presidents 46; delegates 436; total 521. Reports of state officers were handed in. The convention this afternoon appointed committees and held an election for officers. The announcement of the result will be made to-morrow. The total enrollment is now 541. This evening ten members of the order delivered patriotic speeches in the Academy of Music in the contest for three gold medals. The city is gay with the national colors and the present indications point to a parade of six thousand members on Thursday afternoon.

A Pin Machine.

Among the operative exhibits that will be shown in Machinery Hall at the cotton States and International Exposition is a pin machine. It is in two parts, the first of which makes pins and the second sticks them in the paper. This will be done in full view of the visitors. A slender thread of brass wire is started in one end of the machine. It is cut, pointed and the head put on, and the completed pin is dropped into a bath which plates it with white metal. From this receptacle the pins are dropped into a sifter, which carries them rapidly to the sticking machine, where they are stuck in regular rows in the paper and a complete paper of pins is turned out. The mechanism of the machinery is delicately elaborate, and it will be one of the most interesting exhibits in the Machinery Hall.

Policeman's Strange Death.

Upper Sandusky, Aug.—Officer Simonis died at his home to-night from congestion of the brain, caused, it is generally believed, by being sand-bagged last night. He was also paralyzed and could not talk. The only thing he said was: "I was after some one." He was found this morning at 7 o'clock prostrate in the rear of the Comins' manufacturing establishment. No marks or cuts were on his person, but there was evidence of a struggle. His coat was off and his badge, revolver and club scattered upon the ground,

The spot where he was found was not upon his beat, and he had no ordinary cause to visit the locality. It is supposed he was after a would-be burglar and was sand-bagged.

Death of Joseph G. Butler.

A telegram from Cleveland, this forenoon, brought the sad intelligence to Warren of the death of Mr. Joseph G. Butler, who for a few months past has been at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clark, in that city. Mr. Butler has been in declining health during the past year and his death was not wholly unexpected. In years he had passed four score. He was born in Bellefonte, Pa., and came to Ohio over a half century ago, first locating at Niles, where he was engaged in the mercantile business a number of years. About 1860 he came to Warren, and with the exception of perhaps one or two years' residence in Howland, has been a resident of Warren since then. In 1862 Mr. Butler was elected sheriff of Trumbull county, and re-elected for a second term. As a man, citizen and public officer he was esteemed by all for his good qualities of head and heart, and all who knew him in his busy life, as well as in his more retired years, will ever retain pleasing recollections of his geniality and uniform kindness to all, in sunshine and in shadow. No announcement of the date of the funeral has yet been made.—Warren Chronicle, August 21.

Erie Soldiers' Home.

Adjutant General Stewart, secretary of the board of trustees of the soldiers and sailors' home at Erie yesterday signed an order for the admission or twenty old soldiers. The population of the home is now 420. There is no limit to the admission under the act of the last legislature. It is likely the population will be increased to 500 before the close of the year. The appropriation to the home by the legislature of 1893 only provided for the maintenance of 400 inmates and many indigent soldiers were debarred from admission on his account.

Gas Well in Potter County.

The test well being drilled at Roulette, Potter county, has developed into a gasser of considerable importance. The vein was struck at a depth of one thousand two hundred feet, and as near as can be estimated with the appliances at hand they have a pressure of 600 pounds. The people of Roulette and vicinity are greatly excited and are anticipating greater results from other wells, which will be put down immediately.

Another Fly Chaser.

An exchange gives the following for ridding the kitchen and dining room of flies: "Take a small stove shovel, heat it red hot and pour on a few drops of carbolic acid, having previously closed all doors and windows. In a few minutes open the room and the flies will be found entirely disappeared. Only a faint odor of the fumes of carbolic will remain, which will serve to prevent the flies from again congregating.

More Subjects for the Fool Killer.

Thomas McCann yesterday made a wager with Thomas Murphy, proprietor of the Capitol at Newburg, N. Y., whereby he is to work one year free of charge for Murphy if Corbett defeats Fitzsimmons. If Fitzsimmons whips Corbett, McCann will receive $100 per week for a year, he to do nothing but draw his pay.

FIFTEEN DEAD INDIANS.

Bannocks Brutally Murdered by a Gang of Cattlemen.

Chicago, August 25.—A special from Burns, Ore., says: A courier from Diamond Valley reports the killing of fifteen Bannocks by cattlemen under the leadership of "Rye" Smith. Smith's reason was revenge for the murder of his father 1878 in Diamond Valley. There is great excitement in the town and throughout the country. Troop "A" is in readiness to march on short notice and is awaiting orders from the county sheriff for authority to act.

While particulars of the affair are difficult to obtain, it is learned that the matter has no bearing on the Jackson's Hole troubles. Ever since Smith's father was killed in 1878 by warriors of the Bannock tribe he has been "on their trial," and not a few have met death at his hands.

It seems a party of Indians were on their summer hunt near Diamond Valley and killed a number of cattle belonging to stockmen whose herds range in that vicinity. A party of cattlemen was organized to punish the marauders, and Smith readily undertook to lead them.

The pursuers located the Indians about an hour before sunset at their camp near the western edge of the valley, and without warning opened fire upon them. The Indian bucks were thrown into a panic and fled for the hills, the squaws following suit. The stockmen pursued them and fired a volley at the fugitives, dropping several of them, including one or two squaws. The pursuit was not continued, the cattlemen believing sufficient punishment had been inflicted. The courier reports that fifteen dead Indians were found after this one-sided battle.

Died of Her Injuries.

Huntingdon, Pa., Aug. 27.—Mrs. J. N. wife of Mr. Harry W. Harrison, who was so frightfully burned on the 14th instant, died at her home in Mount Union late last night. Ever since the unfortunate occurence Mrs. Harrison had suffered untold agony, and death was indeed a great relief. She was aged 26 years and 2 months.

The young woman with her husband resided with the latter's mother, and from all accounts was warning her mother-in-law, of the dangers attending the use of gasoline to start a fire, when she became the unfortunate victim of a blaze thus made. Mrs. Harrison, the mothe-in-law, it seems, was using gasoline to assist in starting a fire in a cook stove, when the young woman rushed into the room and entered a protest against such a practice. But the warning was too late. A lighted match had been applied and an awful flame shot from the open stove. The elder woman, standing directly in front of the stove, escaped all injury, but the younger Mrs. Harrison, although ten feet away, stood in the path of the flame, which seemed to be carried by a current of air, and was terribly burned. There was scarcely a spot on her body that was not blistered by the flame, and from that moment until her death she suffered indescribable pain. Death after thirteen days of such torture was welcomed as a great relief.

Disappointed by the Valkyrie.

New York, Aug. 26.—The Valkyrie, escorted by a fleet of newspaper tugs, went down to Sandy Hook this afternoon for the purpose of taking her first spin in American waters under racing canvass, but disappointed a great many people by anchoring in the Horseshoe and remaining there. Among the disappointed ones was Mr. George J. Gould, who went down to Sandy Hook on the Atlanta, was transferred to the Vigilant and sailed the Tobin bronze boat outside. Mr. Gould may have been out merely to try his hand at the wheel of the Vigilant and to see what kind of shape Mr. Willard has got her in, but the way he took the cup defender of 1893 out of the Hook and hovered about until nearly night fall, gave grounds for a suspicion that he wanted a brush with Valkyrie III.

THROWN OR JUMPED.

W. Galenski, a Miner, Sustained Injuries in Pittsburg That May Prove Fatal.

Pittsburg, Aug. 26.—At 2 o'clock this morning a man supposed to be W. Galenski, a miner, from Gastonville, Pa., was either thrown or jumped from the second story window of a resort at 271 Second avenue, occupied by William Boyer and his wife, Maggie. Galenski received injuries that will probably cause his death.

Several rumors are afloat concerning the affair one of which has it that Galenski desired Cora Steinberg, one of the young women of the resort, to marry him, threatening that if she did not consent he would jump from the window. Upon her refusal Galenski made the fatal leap. Another story is that Galenski became abusive and the girl summoned Mr. Boyer. With his aid she threw Galenski from the window. Boyer, his wife, Maggie, and a man named Charles Norton have been arrested by the police. Cora Steinberg has not yet been found. The police are at work on the theory that the affair was an attempt at murder to accomplish or hide a robbery.

A Boy Husband Wants a Divorce.

Hollidaysburg, August, 26.—William Cowlen, 16-year-old boy, and son of a prominent Blair county citizen, petitioned the court today for a divorce from his wife Stella. The sensational allegation in his petition is that on August 15, 1895, he visited his wife, who was then Miss Law, at her home on North Fifty-fifth street, Philadelphia. While there he claims he was drugged with liquor and conveyed in a carriage across the ferry to Camden, N. J., where a marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Burrill.

The boy further alleges that he did not recover from his stupefaction until the clergyman received his fee of $5. He then denounced the ceremony as a farce and now sues for absolute divorce.

Bull Fight Failure.

Cripple Creek, Col., Aug. 26.—Not to exceed 200 people went to Gillette to see the bull fight to-day, and on account of the slim attendance no killing was done. The so-called fiesta is at and end and the people are heartily glad. Financially the show has proved a flat failure.

Those connected with the management of the affair have been arrested three times since Saturday afternoon, charged with cruelty to animals, but all have settled by the payment of comparatively small fines, $5 and cost being the amount assessed in nearly all cases. It is not likely that there will be any further prosecution in connection with the affair. The prize fight arranged between George Halland 'Frenchy' Osborne failed to come off, the pugilists being disgusted at the prospects of drawing a crowd.

Wine and Rifles.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 26.—The following is an example of a large number of letters received during the past three years from all parts of the United States and Canada by the surveyor of customs at Peoria:

"Dear Sir: You will please give me a little information concerning the mass wine recently shipped to Bishop Spalding, which proved to be winchester rifles, and oblige an F. P. P.

"Floyd Long, Benwood, Marshall county W. Va.

All these letters have been answered and to the same effect, that no such consignment had passed through the office, and, in fact, Bishop Spalding has received nothing through the customs for four years.

Attacked Her Daughter with a Hatchet.

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 26.—Mrs. F. R. Beard, of Andover, Mass., who owns a summer cottage here, attacked her daughter with a hatchet this morning, inflicting wounds which may prove fatal. The daughter is Miss Josephine Beard, a Boston school teacher. She was in bed at the time of the assault. A college friend, Miss Winona E. Graffen, of Andover, who was rooming with Miss Beard, received two flesh wounds, which are not considered serious. Miss Graffen escaped in her night clothes and gave the alarm. Temporary insanity was the cause of the act Mrs. Beard recovered her self-possession and this noon accompanied her daughter to a hospital in Portland.

300 Rolled In Agony.

La Porte, Ind., Aug. 26.—Three hundred out of 1,000 people were poisoned at a German Lutheran mission festival or picnic in a grove at Tracy, this county, yesterday. A picnic dinner was served and it is thought some miscreant poisoned the potatoes or drinking water. The victims were attacked with frightful pains, purging and vomiting, and rolled and tumbled on the ground in agony until medical aid was secured. As yet none have died, but many are still very ill. Two hundred and fifty persons were present from this city.

SPOFFORD'S EXPLANATION.

He Settled the Delayed Adjustment of Accounts and Not a Shortage, as Represented.

Washington, Aug. 26—In view of the construction that has been placed upon Mr. Spofford's statement that he recently paid to the treasury a sum of $22,400 on his accounts, the librarian of congress desires that the following explanation be made public. He stated that the payment was that he found to be the approximate balance between two accounts—the treasury owing him for several months disbursements of library salaries and he owing the treasury copyright fees, the adjustment of which had been delayed by his engrossment in pressing labors, preventing close scrutjny and prompt balancing of accounts.

During the entire time of this delay running from Oct. 1893, he had continued to pay into the treasury every two or three months copyright fees to the amount of over $55,000 in 1894 and 1895, exclusive of the $22,400 referred to. This was the plain state of the case, delayed adjustment of accounts, and not a shortage, as has been widely represented. He distinctly denied that the recent deposits were to make good any wrongful withholding of moneys due to the government,

Of Interest to Education.

Huntingdon, Pa., August 27.—President Judge John G. Love, specially presiding in the Forty-ninth district, has just filed a degree that is bound to attract some interest in educational circles, in this county at least.

County Superintendent Rudy had refused to grant E. E. Kell, a Shade Gap school teacher, a professional certificate, because he could not certify to the fact that the applicant was a person of good moral character. It was admitted that Kell was fully competent from an educational standpoint, but he was charged with being habitually addicted to the use of intoxicating beverages, and on this ground the county superintendent felt that he could not legally issue the certificate.

Kell could get his school had the certificate been forthcoming. He therefore petitioned the court for a rule on County Superintendent Rudy to show cause why a mandamus should not issue compelling him to grant the certificate. The case was heard at a special term of court last Friday, and in a decree just filed the rule is made absolute and a peremptory mandamus is awarded, commanding Superintendent Rudy to issue a proper legal certificate within five days and pay the costs of the proceedings.

May Use Fire Arms if Needed.

Austin, Tex., August 27.—Attorney General Crane this morning handed down his opinion in the Corbeet-Fitzsimmons prize fight case in reply to an interrogatory of Sheriff Caball, of Dallas county, as to whether he had any legal right to shoot down the people while attempting to suppress the fight. The attorney general's reply is to the effect that prize fighters, referees, etc., constitute an unlawful assemblage and the statutes of the state make special provisions for the disbandment of such unlawful assemblages; that the sheriff is empowered to summon a posse or even the militia to his aid and in case the fighters will not cease their conduct then the statutes specially provide that homicide is justifiable when absolutely necessary to suppress riot or unlawful gatherings. The attorney general concludes his opinion by saying that while he does not believe it necessary, still if it is necessary the statute provide that the sheriff can use fire arms in disbanding any assemblage.

Model Military Camp.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—The secretary of war to-day ordered the establishment of a model modern military camp on the Chichamauga battlefield during the continuance of the services incident to the dedication of the new National park at that place. The camp will be composed of six companies from Ft. Thomas, at Newport, Ky., two companies from Jackson barracks at New Orleans, and the 23d artillery, from Ft. McPherson at Atlanta, Ga., and will be under the command of Lieut. Col. Willetson. The camp will be established Sept. 1. Many bands will be in daily attendance.

Sugar Valley's New Woman.

The Nippenose News is authority for the statement that Mrs. Mary R. Zimmerman of Sugar Valley, aged 76 years, one day last week cut two 100 yards swaths in an oats field with a cradle. Her grand-children, the sons and daughters of 'Squire Bower, of Rauchtown, took up the grain after her.

NO ALARM IS FELT.

Admiral Carpenter and Minister Denby Believe That China Is Friendly to the Americans.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Advices have been received by officials at the state and navy departments from Minister Denby and Admiral Carpenter which indicate that neither the diplomatic nor naval representative of the United States in China regards the situation, resulting from the Ku Cheng riots as very serious or alarming, so far as American interests are concerned. It appears that the Chinese government and officials are very friendly toward the United States and American citizens, and regret disturbances which have tended to cause so much consternation. Officials in Washington are convinced that both Minister Denby and Admiral Carpenter feel assured that the Chinese government will prevent further outrages and also that the alarm felt by Americans in Shanghai, Foo Chow and Tien Tein is greater than the situation warrants. The advices from the minister and admiral are reassurring and it is stated, not in accord with the cables of Consul General Jernigan at Shanghai, and the statements made by other American citizens, indicating that further outrages were contemplated and that lives of American citizens and their property were in great danger.

Up to noon the state department had not been advised that Consul Hixon and the English consul had not been allowed to be present at the investigation of the Ku Cheng riots, though no surprise was manifested that such was the case, as in times past like action had been taken. It is scarcely possible that a peremptory demand will be made that these officers be allowed to take part in the investigation.

Knew Daniel Boone.

Versailles, Ky., Aug. 21.—Frogtown, a negro settlement, six miles east of Versailles, is the home of Parthenia Bragg, a colored woman who has reached her 110th year. She is probably the oldest person living in this state. She was once a slave in the Hamilton family, of Mt. Sterling, Ky. She has been toothless for a great many years, and there is little space between the wrinkles which have been multiplying upon her face, but she is still wonderfully vigorous for one of her age, having walked from the railroad station to her home, a distance of two miles, only a few months ago. In her early life "Aunt Parthenia," was several times married, and her descendants are about 200 in number. She knew Daniel Boone, the Kentucky pioneer, and remembers when the population of the state was very scant.

Rescued by the Reserve.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 21.—The small steamer Riverside last night took a party from here to Augustine Pier, where the Pennsylvania Naval Reserves are in camp. At midnight she started to return, but a safety valve blew out and the boat was stopped. The Riverside was a quarter of a mile from the pier at the time. The mate was taken ashore in a row boat and the officer in charge of the camp called out the reserve.

Three cutters were manned and sent to the rescue. The forty-seven passengers, including several women, were soon landed by the reserves, and they remained at the hotel for the balance of the night. By 6 o'clock this morning the Riverside was repaired and made her return to this city. The reserves were asleep when called out, but they promptly responded. There was little excitement on the boat as at no time was there any danger.

Made a Statement of Claim.

Philadelphia, August 21.—A statement of claim was filled in the United States circuit court in the suit of the Industrial Improvement company, of New Jersey, against the Allentown and Bethlehem Rapid Transit company, brought to recover $25,000 on unpaid promissary notes which fell due on the first of last month. One of the notes is for $10,000 and three are for $5 000 each.

Stettler—Woodring.

Mr. Zain Woodring, of Port Matilda, who is well and favorably known in this locality, was married on Thursday morning to Mrs. Gertrude Stettler, of Port Matilda. The ceremony took place at Port Matilda at 5 a. m., Rev. Sarvis tying the connubial knot in the presence of a few invited guests. Miss Elverda Woodring, the groom's cousin, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. After the ceremony an elegant wedding breakfast was served, and the guests escorted the happy pair to the train, which they boarded amid a shower of rice and old shoes. Their wedding trip takes them to Harrisburg, Reading, Philadelphia and the seashore. On their return they will come to Philipsburg, which will be their future home. Mr. Woodring is a very popular teacher, and will have charge of the South Philipsburg grammar school the coming term. He is a very fine young man, and we are glad to know that he has married a very lovely young lady, who has some desirable acquaintances among the Philipsburg "Y's." We offer our sincere congratulations.

Snakes in Market.

Beezer & Bosch can now be regarded as the most enterprising butchers in Bellefonte. Not only do they seek to keep their customers daily supplied with the very best in all of the ordinary kinds of meats, but within the last few days they have imported from away across the mountain somewhere a rare bit in the shape of two huge rattle snakes, which they will without doubt sell out to their regular customers if they desire any of that kind of meat. Of course, as the snakes are only about four feet long it will be impossible to cut very large steaks from them, but they will allow the buyer the privilege of serving them any way he may want them. If you never saw a rattler, just go around to their shop and take a look at these reptiles.

Weather Crop Bulletin.

The weather crop bulletin for the week ending Aug. 19 says:

While the rains during the week ending Aug. 19th were beneficial, they only afforded temporary relief. The deficiency of rainfall during the past week together with the excessive temperature and large percentage of sunshine, has largely extended and intensified the prevailing drought, and caused the crops to ripen prematurely, so that the yield of corn will be much lessened, and all growing crops more or less affected. Early soaking rains would yet be beneficial in many localities and improve late corn. Apples have stopped growing, are rapidly ripening and dropping off.

Two Killed In a Feud.

Whitesburg, Ky., Aug. 21.—W. Gilbert and James Owens, brothers-in-law, were killed yesterday in a hand-to-hand battle at Keystone, Mingo county, W. Va., by J. Strauss. Keystone is near the Kentucky line, and after the shooting Strauss crossed into Pike county, this state, where, heavily armed, he defies the officers to take him.

The killing was the result of a family feud of ten years' standing. The three men, all under the influence of liquor, met in a mountain pass, and quarreled, each drawing a revolver. Gilbert and Owens received wounds from which they died almost instantly.

Died at Woodward.

Mr. Noah Weaver, a well-known and highly respected citizen of that place, died on last Saturday morning, aged 74 years. He had been in poor health for the last few years, his death being due to a complication of disease. He was a consistent member of the Evangelical church and was esteemed by all who knew him. His only son, Thomas, preceded him to the spirit world about two years ago. A bereaved wife survives him. The funeral took place on Tuesday forenoon, conducted by Revs. Lohr and Shortess. Interment at Woodward.

Death of Mrs. Samuel Fleck.

A telegram was received by Mr. John Fleck Tuesday evening, announcing the death of his mother, Mrs. Samuel Fleck, at Mauch Chunk, Pa. Mrs. Fleck has been a resident of this city for many years and was most highly respected. She was a member of the M. E. church, and her every day life proved that she was a good, pious christian lady. She was a widow her husband having died here several years ago. She was a lady beloved by all, and is survived by quite a large family of grown up sons and daughters. Peace to her ashes.—Philipsburg Journal.

Mrs. Fleck was the mother of Mrs James Schofield, of this place.

Festival.

The members of the United Evangelical church, of Fairview appointment, will hold an ice cream festival near the residence of John F. and Austin Schenck on Saturday, Aug. 31, 1895, afternoon and evening. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, candy, etc., will be served in elegant style by the ladies. The Howard band will be in attendance and furnish some very choice music for the occasion. All are invited.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Altoona Company No. 26 Had No Competitors in the Big Drill.

Reading Pa., Aug. 21.—The second day's session of the grand lodge Knights of Pythias was taken up principally in naming the various committees and calling of the roll. The five representatives of the supreme lodge which met in Washington gave a brief outline of the work accomplished by that body. Major Gen. Carnaban, of Indianapolis, then delivered an address on the uniformed rank of the order.

At this afternoon's session of the grand lodge Knight of Pythias H. M. Wadsworth of Philadelphia, was elected supreme representative, receiving 246 votes to 131 for J. J. Davis, of Pittsburg. Another supreme representative will be elected to-morrow. Grand Chancellor R. H. Jackson in his report deplored the loss of membership during the past year, which amounted to 1,920. He attributes this fact to the financial depression through which some sections of the state have passed and so many members being thrown out of employment.

The exhibition drill of Altoona company No. 26, Captain S. Roberts commanding, at Witman's ball park to-day, was a decided success and was witnessed by a large number of representatives and members of the uniformed rank. There were to have been several entries, but when it became known that the Altoona company, which always carries off first honors, had entered the list, no other companies appeared. This evening Major General Carnahan presented Captain S. Roberts with a handsome diamond jewel valued at $75.

There is still considerable business to be transacted by the grand lodge and it is possible that it will take until Friday to finish.

Woodstock, Ill., Aug. 21.—All the directors of the American Railway union, except President Debs, will leave here to-morrow morning, after having served a three months' sentence for contempt of court. All of them resume their duties in the field, instructing members and organizing local unions. They have engagements now which will require fully three months to fill. Elliot will go to Philadelphia, stopping at Cleveland until after Labor day.

District headquarters will be established in all large railway centers. Since their imprisonment 156 local unions that were shattered by the strike of last summer have been reorganized and 27 new ones instituted.

Large Saw Mill Burned.

A despatch from Eleanor, Jefferson county, says the steam saw mill and lumber yard of R. A. Hamilton burned on Monday. The loss will be about $10,000, partly covered by insurance. The mill was one of the largest in this vicinity; having a capacity of 50,000 feet daily when running with a full crew. Edward Seifert, the owner of the lumber, lost about $2,000, fully covered by insurance.

I. O. O. F. Festival.

A picnic will be held by the Blanchard lodge, I. O. O. F. in Delong's grove near Eagleville station, on Saturday, August 31st. Prominent speakers will be present. The Milesburg band and orchestra will be present. The picnic will close with a festival in Kune's opera house in the evening.

Lousy Trees.

The maple trees about the court house are afflicted with a white insect like a louse. They spread rapidly over the trunks and the foliage and often will kill a tree in a short time. In order to protect the trees from further ravages they were given a wash with a solution of Banner lye and carbolic acid. It will do the work in a short time. Joshua Folk is cleaning the trees this week.

—A telegram received this afternoon announced the death of Mrs. Mary Parsons at Lindsay. The remains will be brought to Bellefonte to-morrow afternoon at 4.50, and the funeral services will be held in the Methodist church at 5 o'clock.

The Gold Reserve.

For the time, at least, the bond syndicate is fulfilling its contract to protect the gold reserve. The deposit of $2,000,000 on Tuesday is now evidence that the syndicate will not let the reserve go below the $100,000,000 mark before the first of October. It can draw gold from San Francisco and other parts of the country at will, and will have no trouble in replenishing all withdrawals up to that time.

There is some fear of the movements of the syndicate after the contract period has expired, but these are probably not well founded. The syndicate made a large profit from the last issue of bonds, but there is no reason to expect it could make a like profit from another issue, if it should force one. But there is a stronger reason why it will not try to force another issue. It is deeply interested in the general business of the country, in railway securities and in other bonds. It has, no doubt, profited much more from the revival of prosperity and the general advance in prices than from the premium realized in handling the government bonds. It has the same incentive to maintain the present order of things after the first of October.

When October is here there will be natural forces at work to support the Treasury. The crops will be moving freely, and the export tide will have set in strongly. Europe is short on crops this year, and even if it does draw pretty heavily from Argentina, India, Australia and other sources, will have to take more from the United States than it did last year, and this will help to check the outflow of gold. The syndicate will be more likely to aid the good influences than to try forcing another loan in spite of them.

THE Assistant Attorney General of Illinois has decided that the law passed by the last Legislature and requiring the raising of the United States flag over public buildings and school houses does not apply to private and parochial schools or to Sunday schools. Its wording would lead one to conclude that it applies to schools of all kinds, and in consequence of this it has already excited much antagonism among the Lutherans and Catholics. Both these denominations have school houses of their own and they naturally think that the Legislature has no right to say that a flag shall be hoisted over them, although they express no dislike to the American flag. The law was passed on the last day of the session, and like most legislation put through at that time is imperfect. The raising of the national flag over public school houses is appropriate, but it is doubtful if any Legislature has the right to insist that it shall be placed over private and parochial school houses.

BOUNDARY LOCATION.

Survey of Line Between Centre and Huntingdon Counties.

For some time the boundary line between Centre and Huntingdon counties has been the cause of some trouble. From Penna. Furnace to the top of Tussey monntain eastward, to the corner of Centre, Mifflin and Huntingdon counties the boundary line is uncertain and not marked. In consequence there is considerable unseated land in that section, the owners of which refuse to pay tax thereon claiming always that they are not located in the proper county. To put an end to this trouble an act was passed by the recent Legislature to determine boundary lines, by the member from Huntingdon. According to its provisions, after a certain number of taxpayers of each county petition the courts for a survey, the same shall be made by a commission. The president judge of each county appoints a member. The county commissioners of each county likewise select two more surveyors, who must reside outside of the district and not from the same county either. These four members then select a fifth member.

A petition for the survey of the line between these two counties, from Penna. Furnace to the corner of Centre, Huntingdon and Mifflin, was duly signed by citizens of the two counties. Huntingdon county has appointed the following members of this commission: By the Court, J. Simpson Africa; by the commissioners, Wm. P. Mitchell, Esq., of Lock Haven. Judge Love recently appointed Edward R. Chambers, Esq., of Bellefonte; and our commissioners will make their selection the latter part of the week.

The commissioners are to begin the survey at once. It covers a distance of twenty miles and may require at least a month's work to complete the same.

A commission was appointed about three years ago for this same purpose, but they never acted.

The expense of this survey will no doubt be about $1,000.

Shot as a Traitor.

Key West., Fla., Augt 22.—Passengers by the steamer Mascotte report that the first public political execution took place at Matanzas on the 20th inst., at 6 p. m. The insurgent captain, Domingo Mujica, was captured recently near Jovellanos, court martialed and shot as a traitor to Spain.

Mujica was a young man and came of one of the best families in the province of Matanzas. His execution will, it is feared, cause the insurgents to follow the example set by Spanish officials and in the future all Spaniards falling into their hands will meet with Mujica's fate.

Captain Garrido, a Spanish officer, discovered in Santiago de Cuba an insurgent's hospital where seventy-four wounded rebels had taken refuge, and put them to death, using the machette. Such barbarous acts are causing many prominent Cubans, before loyal to the government, to join the insurgents.

Cast to the Four Winds.

Franklin, August 22.—An explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred just outside of the city limits at 11.45 this morning. A man named Hall, a resident of Oil City, was driving a wagon loaded with nitroglycerine to the magazine on the top of Bully Hill and was within 150 feet of the building, when for some unknown cause the stuff exploded. The wagon and horses were blown to atoms and not a vestige of Hall's remains are to be found. A hole five feet deep was torn in the earth. The shock was so great in Franklin that windows were blown out and a number of chimneys were knocked down.

Hardly a Market for Them.

Many acres of ground in this valley were planted in potatoes this spring, and the yield has been enormous. The demand for the tubers just at present is not very great, and the price offered is not a very flattering one, with scarcely any market at all, This is causing some who have large crops, much worry. The price will go up later on, and will pay to hold them for a while at least.

Impaled on a Branch.

Napoleon, O., Aug. 21.—Martin Beam, a prosperous farmer of this county, fell from a apple tree yesterday and met death in a most horrible manner. In falling he struck the stump of a broken limb. The jagged wood entered his back and came out through his abdomen, and when found by his family he was a most pitiable sight.

Chris Magee's Idea.

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—C. L. Magee was this evening asked for his latest figures on the state fight. He replied: "We have 155 delegates elected. In Philadelphia we have fifty-six and Quay fourteen." "What is the probability of a split or double state convention?" was the next question, to which came the answer: "I don't know. It all rests with the other fellows."

Denied the Engagement.

New Orleans, August 22. Louis Gervars, aged 25, attempted to kill Miss Eugenine Nathancourt and her father today by shooting, Gervars claimed the girl was engaged to him. She denied the engagement and he shot at her twice. Her father rushed in and received three bullets from Gervars's weapon. Miss Nathancourt's wounds are slight, but her father may die. Gervars is under arrest.

A Band that is Not Appreciated.

The town council of Milesburg has put itself on record as having turned down the prize musical organization of Centre and Clinton counties. What does it mean? A little less than a year ago this same council was pulling this same band around in carriages under the glow of myriad red lights and stuffing them with one of the finest banquets ever served in that town.

The Milesburg band was turned out of its quarters in the council building last week, because it has become a "nuisance," according to the views of some of the people down there. The musicians, nothing daunted by council's unfriendly action, have hired another room where they are holding forth in all their glory.

When a town like Milesburg turns down a band that has brought it nothing but honor, one that most any other town in the State would be proud of, it is decidedly hard up for something to exercise a little authority over.

Veterans' Picnic September 7th.

On the above date the Veteran Club of Centre County will hold its annual picnic at Hunter's Park on the line of the Bellefonte Central railroad. All railways in the county will run special trains, the excursion rates being about 1 cent per mile. In the evening a special will run to Coburn, enabling the old soldiers from Penns Valley who attend the picnic to return home the same day. Among the distinguished speakers who have been invited are Gov. Hastings, Col. Quay, Gen. D. McM. Gregg, Dept. Commander Cummings, Col. Nicholson, Gen. Bingham, Gen. Gobin, Gen. Taylor, Col. Hazzard, Gen. Merrill, Dr. Atherton, Capt. Kress and Prof. Wolf. Everybody is invited.

Dooley—Bauer.

The marriage of Mr. J. Matt. Dooley and Miss M. E. Bauer, eldest daughter of Nicholas Bauer, of east Bishop street, which was solemnized in St. John's Catholic church, in this place, Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, partook of the nature of a surprise to the many friends of the bride and groom.

They departed on an evening train for Williamsport, where they spent the night and then journeyed east for a ten days tour. Upon their return they will go to house keeping on east High street. The bride is a most estimable woman, while the groom is a well known accountant in the Bellefonte fuel and supply company's plant.

Death of Mary Parsons.

As announced in this paper on Thursday the death of Mrs. Mary Parsons occurred at Lindsay, near Punxsutawney, where she had gone to visit her son Andrew, on Thursday morning. Mrs. Parsons is the widow of Steele Parsons, and has lived in Bellefonte all her life. She left home early in the spring to go on a visit to her children, and has been in good health all the time up to within a few days. She is survived by three sons, namely, Joseph, Wesley and Andrew, the former of this place and the latter two of Punxsutawney.

Camping Party.

Last Wednesday a jolly party of campers went to Eagles Nest on Buffalo Run and went into camp for a week or ten days.

The members of the party are: Miss Nailon, of Renova, Miss Hazel, Miss Gross, Miss McLaughlin and Miss Curry, of Bellefonte. The gentlemen are Messrs. William T. Hillibish, Harry Taylor, Jake Gross, Walter Garrity and H. J. Jackson. The latest news from the camp is that the campers are having a jolly good time and are enjoying themselves in their silvan retreat.

A Brutal Murder.

Providence, R. I., August 22.—One of the most brutal murders that has ever occurred in this city came to the notice of the police early this morning when the badly decomposed body of a young Italian, supposed to be Giovanni Quinconto, was found in the south end of Leonard's pond at the North end of the city. The body was anchored in the water which was only a few feet deep by a big piece of piping which was flanged at one end and weighed 150 pounds. To this the body was fastened by a strap that belonged to the victim. The head and face showed marks of violence, the scalp being torn in several places and the face about the eyes and forehead battered and lacerated.

Just when the man was killed and thrown into the lake is not known, but it is supposed that the deed was done some time on the night of August 11. It was on that day that Quinconto disappeared from his boarding house. The police force is hard at work on the case.

Awaiting a Decision.

The telephone question has not yet been decided, and the petitioners who ordered their phones removed or given $1 per month reduction are awaiting the action of the company. All of the petitioners paid the company for the last two weeks of August at the $3 rate, and so far none of the checks have been returned to them. The patrons think they will win this time. They either win or the phones go out. They are fully determined on this point.—Centre Reporter.

Died Aged 95 Years.

Mrs. Rachael Snavely, died at Nittany Valley on Thursday, Aug. 15th, at the advanced age of 95 years and was buried at St. Paul's cemetery on the following Sunday. Mr. Snavely, her husband, died in 1870. He had been a soldier in the war 1812, when but 16 years of age.

FIRST ANNUAL REUNION.

Lutherans of Centre, Clinton Lycoming and Union Counties.

It is becoming a custom among the Lutheran congregation of Penna. to hold annual reunions each summer, embracing several counties, as may be convenient. This practice has been in vogue in various sections and it always proves an enjoyable event.

The pastors of the Lutheran congregations in Central Penna. have concluded to hold their first reunion at Hecla Park, on Thursday of this week, Aug. 29. Excursion rates will prevail over the various railroads. The rate from Bellefonte will be 25 cents, from State College 75 and 40 cents; from Mill Hall 35 cents, and corresponding rates from intermediate points.

An elaborate programme has been prepared for the occasion. A number of interesting addresses will be made by prominent ministers of the church. An orchestra will be present to furnish music. It will be a basket picnic but ample provision will be made to serve meals at the park. Refreshments of all kinds will be served.

Everybody is cordially invited to join with them to make this, their first Annual Reunion a memorable event.

At this gathering an effort will be made to form a permanent organization and to continue these reunions annually.

Ex-Attorney General Hensel pleading for mercy for an embezzler who had been convicted of misapplying the funds of the bank of which he was cashier, made a significant remark when he said that his client had entered into a speculation in tocks before the embezzlement occurred 'and had unfortunately succeeded in making a winning." If he had lost he might have given up stock speculation and remained an honest man, but his early success prompted him to fresh speculations; he began to lose, and then, with the fever of gambling upon him, he became a defaulter. The tale has been told a score of times, but not always so forcibly. It should be enough to deter young men from entering into speculations, to know that they are likely to be worse off if they win than if they lose.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarr Cure. Send for circulars; free.

The Herald Fair of Silver Problem.

A correspondent of the New York Herald writes as follows to that greatest of metropolitan journals.

The Herald is fair and published both sides of the silver problem. The journal that sets itself up as superior in intelligence to its readers insults the intelligence of its readers.

The total domestic consumption of wheat is estimated annually at 334,000,000 bushels. Financial experts, however, claim that this consumption is reduced 60,000,000 a year owing to the security of money.

The fact is that this country cannot compete with the silver and cheap money countries. The farmer in Argentina gets about ninety cents a bushel for his wheat in paper, which enables him to pay good wages and earn a living. When this wheat reaches the coast it is put through the gold crucible and the British exporter is able to sell his wheat to England at thirty cents a bushel in gold.

As a financial expert and student of conditions, I expect to see American wheat sell at forty cents a bushel and corn at twenty cents a bushel this fall. The American farmer will be much worse off than the Argentine farmer and will find he has been "ploughing the sand."

The recoinage of silver would cause a rise in prices of wheat, corn and cotton, and though it might shut off exports, would enable our own people to enjoy a certain domestic prosperity.

Government Dishonesty.

In no instance has the dishonesty of the present administration been more barefaced than in its dealings with our suga producers. When the McKinley Tariff was passed in 1890 the Louisiana crop of that year was 180,000 tons. Under the Protection then offered by Congress the sugar output of that one State almost doubled, increasing to 350,000 tons for the 1894 crop, which was cultivated, grown and harvested on the faith that the laws of Congress would be executed and that the honesty of the American Government would not be impeached. It is the same in the case of our beet sugar product, which reached only 3,000 tons in 1890 and 30,000 tons in 1894, the phenomenal advance being made solely through the Government's promise of Protection.

The hardship experienced, more particularly by the individual planters and manufacturers of Louisiana, has at length forced upon them the belief that the political party to which they have hitherto belonged is as dishonest as it is incompetent. First of all, the leaders of that party in Congress endeavored to repudiate the payment of the just claims of the sugar growers and producers. It was due chiefly, however, to their political opponents that Congress insisted upon appropriating the sum of $5,000,000 wherewith to partially meet their demands.

More than half a year has elapsed since that money was appropriated. It has not yet been paid, and obstacle after obstacle has been presented by the Democratic officials to prevent its payment. Every delay and subterfuge that could suggest itself has been practiced so as to defraud the sugar producers, who have overcome every opposition and successfully met every argument used against them. For a year past statesmen, financiers, lawyers and Treasury experts have discussed the payment of this just claim, and all have failed in successfully opposing it. Finally, the Democratic officials in Washington were compelled to formulate regulations for its settlement. All details for payment were arranged and the date was announced, September 1, when the money should be handed over.

Thus the hopes of the sugar producers were once more buoyed up. It seemed that the payment of the bounty was inevitable; that there was no escape from it. But the confiding people of Louisiana did not know the depth of Democratic official degradation. An entirely new obstacle was suddenly set before them, and it now looks as if the grandest period of prosperity that was ever enjoyed by Louisiana will terminate with the impoverishment of her people and a check to her progress that cannot be overcome within a decade. Scores of the sugar planters of that State have already been wrecked and ruined; others had tided over their troubles by obtaining advances and extensions of credit, owing to the promise made by Congress that the bounty should be paid them.

But now one official sets himself up to overrule the action of Congress, and those sugar producers who were being helped temporarily by banks and capitalists must, many of them, succumb to the ruin and wreckage that had previously overwhelmed their neighbors and friends. Not only is it the sugar producers of Louisiana who are injured, but every other industry in the State is directly affected by the prosperity of the sugar people. The treachery of the Free Trade party and of the Free Trade officials, step by step, throughout this entire transaction with Louisiana will, and can, never be sufficietly exposed.

I CANNOT but agree with Mr. McCulloch, that putting out of sight individual cases of hardship, if such exist, a fall in the value of gold (increasing the quantity of money) must have, and as I should say, has already a most powerful beneficial effect. It loosens the country from the old bond of debt and habit as nothing else could.—William Stanley Jevons, professor of Political Economy and Logic in Owen University, England.

Hyprocrisy.

The hypocritical pretence of the goldites, that they are bi-metallists, but want bimetallism secured by an international conference has been a cover for more real wickedness and rascality, than any device of hypocrisy invented by the Evil One, since the time Milton wrote Paradise Lost. It is true, Milton conceived many cunning devices of the Devil to delude mankind, but the death of Milton, before the hypocrites invented the scheme of deceiving the American people, by the device of an international conference, has deprived the world of a full description of that hypocritical device, for the want of Milton to describe it. England, which is Europe, demonetized silver in 1816, and labored from that time, until 1893, to finally consummate the work, by the suspension of coinage in India, and the repeal of the Sherman Act.

During the twenty years' preceding '93, the goldites who were helping England consummated the work of establishing the gold standard in her financial dependencies, the United States and Continental Europe, under the pretence of an international conference, with England in the lead. Three times during that period, the United States solicited and obtained such a conference, and three times the Representatives of England, at the conference so held terminated the proceeding, by informing the delegates of the United States, that the remonetization of silver could under no circumstances, be considered. In February, 1893, Mr. Gladstone in commenting upon a resolution, introduced in Parliament looking to the reassemblage of the Brussels Conference, ridiculed the idea of bi-metallism in the most scathing and sarcastic language. He stated that the world outside of the United Kingdom was in debt to the United Kingdom of Great Britain more than ten thousand million dollars, and that it would be extreme folly to allow payment of such a vast sum in anything but gold; he declared that it would be a gracious gift to the world outside of the United Kingdom, which would be willingly received, but which would not increase the respect of the outside world for the sagacity of British statesmen. It is true, that the distress of the masses has created a strong party in both England and Germany in favor of making a larger use of silver, but the bi-metallists of those countries hesitate to even suggest the possibility of the coinage of the two metals upon equal terms, at the ratio of 16 to 1, or 15½ to 1, or any other named ratio. The money powers of Europe, which have governed for almost a century, are united in favor of the gold standard, and there is no hope of overthrowing that power. The utmost that the silver men of Europe can anticipate would be a larger use of silver as a tollen money for subsidiary coin. This would do no good; it would not increase the volume of standard money, upon which the circulation and credit of the commercial world must depend. A larger use of paper money redeemable in gold would answer the same purpose. The fixed gold obligations of the United States, to Europe, aggregate about five hundred million; viz., one hundred and fifty million for carrying trade, one hundred millions for excursionists abroad; two hundred and fifty millions for interests and dividends on foreign investments. These obligations secure for Europe at gold prices, more than the United States can realize by the sale of products in foreign markets, after paying for imports. The national debt has been increased one hundred and sixty-two millions in the last two years, to meet the governments part of the deficiency. How much has been borrowed by corporations for the same purpose, during that time, is not known, but it is very large. Is it reasonable to suppose; that Europe will surrender the advantage she holds in making this country a tributary of the world, by remonetizing silver which would mean the liberation of the American people. They know that if the United States were allowed to coin money instead of borrowing it from Europe, that we would be able to pay our debts and liberate ourselves from vasselage to the old world. In language of the Royal commission would endanger the commercial supremacy of England, which means: it would liberate America. When did England ever voluntarily consent to the freedom and independence of the United States; and is it reasonable to suppose that she will ever consent to our financial independence by joining in a conference for the remonetization of silver.

Kicked the Chandelier.

From the Freeburg Courier: High kicking by expert athletes may be all right and amusing to the curious but after the experience of a Bellefonte summer girl it is hardly the proper thing for an amateur to practice. One evening last week two very nice young ladies who had returned home from the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium went into the parlor, donned loose robes and commenced practicing the high kicking feat. One of the young ladies' feet caught in the chandilier, which hung her up by one leg, with her head slightly touching the carpet. Her sister was not strong enough to release her, and the father and mother being out a man living next door was called in, who unfastened the girl's foot, placed her on a lounge and called a physician, as the victim had become unconscious. Amateur high kicking has ceased in that household, and all kicking relegated to the head of the family. The young man and the rescued high kicker do not speak as they pass by.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them so premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

CHAUNCEY F. BLACK TALKS.

Says the Democratic Clubs Fought Free of the Silver Issue.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Under date of York, Pa., Aug. 24, Hon. Chauncey F. Black writes to L. Gardner, of this place secretary of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, with reference to a news paper article published in the Baltimore Sun, Aug. 14, alleged to be an "interview with Senator Faulkner, chairman of the congressional campaign committee, and other criticisms which the article states have been passed upon the attitude of the officers of the National Association of Democratic Clubs are said to have taken upon the silver question." Mr. Black thinks that the misunderstandings in this matter grew out of groundless newspaper reports and calls Mr. Gardner's attention to the fact that a recent meeting in this city of Senator Faulkner as chairman of the campaign committee himself (Mr. Black) as president of the National Association of Democratic clubs and Mr. Gardner as secretary of both organizations which meeting he states was a mere matter of routine political business. "The silver question was not mentioned among us. As to that," he further writes, "neither the course of the committee nor of the clubs was discussed. We were not there for that or any similar purpose; we all of us, so far as I know, declined to be interviewed, and in consequence of that default a parcel of interviews were invented and sent out broadcast."

In brief sentence commenting on the integrity of Democrats, no matter wha their views about silver, Mr. Black declares there should be no separation on such issues, and concludes:

"Shall we wreck the great party of constitutional governmont and expose ourselves to the untold miseries of a centralized, prodigal and corrupt government, taking the masses for the classes, upon a comparatively paltry question of coinage? The spirit of the silver democrats, south and west, shows that no such result is possible and they may be assured that their northern and eastern brethren are equally loyal to the great cause of free government, which the democracy has had in charge for more than a hundred years."

The Squirrel Season.

According to the game laws "gray, black and fox squirrels may be killed between September 1 and January 1 of any year." Reports coming in from the wooded districts of the country tell of a great plentifulness of the frisky little denizens of the forest trees, and the man who loves squirrel shooting is patiently waiting for the coming of the day when it shall be lawful to kill them. The gray squirrels are particularly plentiful this year.

THE simultaneous employment of the two metals is satisfactory and gives rise to no complaint. Whether gold or silver dominates for the time being, it is always true that the two metals concur together in forming the monetary circulation of the world, and it is the general mass of the two metals combined which serves as the value of things. The suppression of silver would amount to veritable destruction of values without compensation.

Varieties.

Eleven marriages were announced in Saturday's Ledger.

Professor Judd, who succeeds the late Professor Huxley as dean of the Royal college of science, South Kensington, has spent the most of his life in geological study.

Paris has given up the idea of instructing its school children in military drill. The municipal council has disbanded the battalions and ordered the guns and equipments to be sold at auction.

The Order of the Elephant is the strange and out-of-the-way title of nobility conferred in Denmark by Christian I. Why the elephant should have been chosen has never been made apparent.

Rome will hold a great gymnastic meeting during the national fetes in September. Sixty societies and 1,500 gymnasts will take part in it, and many competitors are expected from Berlin, Belgium and Switzerland.

A suburban resident is said to have built his house exactly alike in the front and on the back. His hope was, he explained, to fool the chickens into thinking they were on the front lawn, while they were really in the back yard.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Physicians along the Vermont border have been notified that they will not be allowed to practice medicine in the province of Quebec unless they comply with provincial law, which requires a year's study in some Canadian college.

Foreign papers say that the contract between Stanley and king of the Belgians, binding the explorer to the service of the Congo State until 1900 has been cancelled. As a member of parliament, Stanley could hardly go into the wilds of Africa.

The secretary to the Austro-Hungarian chamber of commerce has informed the world at large that a great exhibition will be held at Buda-Pest next year in commemoration kingdom under Arpad 1,000 years ago.

Mrs. Peter White, who had charge of the Irish village at the World's Fair, has consented to read a paper on the progress of Irish industry for women at the Cotton States and International Exposition. Lady Aberdeen has also been invited to read a paper.

Devastating the Forests.

The tremendous onslaught made upon the forests of the country are having their legitimate effects. Lumber of every kind says the Philadelphia Star, is now becoming scarcer, and prices are steadily advancing. It could not in the natural course of things be otherwise. The plain forests east of the Rocky Mountains have nearly disappeared beneath the axes and saws of the woodman. Pennsylvania has scarcely a remnant left. The yellow pin woods of the south are rapidly disappearing, so rapidly that official reports of their condition are to the effect that in less than 20 years hence they will be things of the past. The walnut timber of the eastern states has almost entirely disappeared, so that practically the forests of Oregon and Washington are the only large bodies of timber lands left. They, too, are being rapidly converted into lumber. Boards, joists, planks, girders, etc., are being shipped in untold quantities to nearly every part of the world. Half a century hence those who come after us will have the same story to tell of the Pacific slope forests as we have to-day of those of the Atlantic.

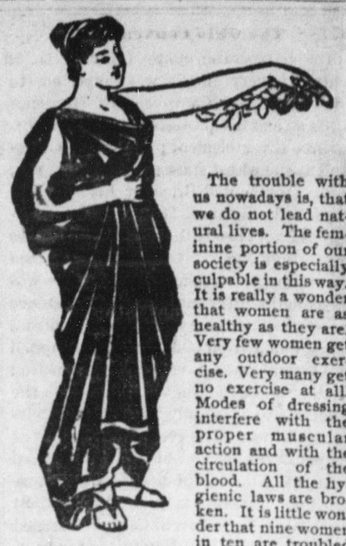
Every Young Man

should be possessed of certain information without which millions contract pernicious and most destructive habits—habits which make young men permanently aged, pale, haggard, listless, devoid of ambition, easily tired, languid, forgetful and incapable; fill mad-houses and swell the list of suicides; separate husbands and wives; bring untold suffering to millions, even unto the third and fourth generation. Parents, guardians and philanthropists can do no better service to the rising generation, than to place in their hands the information and warnings contained in a little book carfully prepared by an association of medical men who have had vast experience in dealing with the grave maladies here hinted at, and who feel that they owe it to humanity to warn the young of the land against certain destructive habits, which are far more prevalent than any layman can imagine, and which if presisted in gradually undermine the constitution and health, and destroy the future happiness of the victim. Cut out this notice and enclose it with ten cents in stamps (to pay postage) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. and the book will be sent secure from observation in a plain sealed envelope.



The trouble with us nowadays is, that we do not lead natural lives. The feminine portion of our society is especially culpable in this way. It is really a wonder that women are as healthy as they are. Very few women get any outdoor exercise. Very many get no exercise at all. Modes of dressing interfere with the proper muscular action and with the circulation of the blood. All the hygienic laws are broken. It is little wonder that nine women in ten are troubled with some derangement or irregularity in the action of the organs distinctly feminine. Neglect and wrong living will show themselves first in the most delicate organs of the whole body. With such weakness and sickness so prevalent, it is to be expected that the bearing of children would be fraught with dread and danger. It should not be so, of course. Nature never meant it to be so. The performance of the highest function of which a woman is capable should not be accompanied by pain. If perfectly natural living were the rule, it would not be so. As lives are lived, something else must be done. A remedy must be found. For over thirty years, Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During that time he has treated thousands of women. He has found in his "Favorite Prescription" a never-failing specific for female complaints. It strengthens the whole body and when taken during gestation, shortens the period of labor and makes childbirth well-nigh painless. It also promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child.

Romance and Socks.

A few weeks ago a Maine young man bought a pair of socks containing a note saying the writer was an employe of the Kenosha (Wis) knitting works and wanted a good husband. She gave her name and requested the buyer, if an unmarried man, to write with a view to matrimony. The young man who found the note considered the matter in all its phases and decided to write to the girl. He did. Awaiting the answer with considerable anxiety, he was at last rewarded with a curt letter stating that the girl was now the mother of two children and had been married four years, and the letter he had answered had been written ever so long ago. It was a "sock" dollager, and the young man hunted for a solution. He found it. The merchant of whom he bought the socks doesn't advertise.—Gardiner Reporter Journal.

A Woman With Some Courage.

Ridgway has a "new woman" whose courage should be enlogized in song and story. Some women scream and flee at the sight of a mouse, but Ridgway's new woman actually went to her chicken coop the other night, caught a skunk by the hind legs, pulled it out of the coop and held it until her daughter brought the hatchet and then deliberately chopped the polecat's head off. Talk about courage that would face a canon's mouth, but where is there a man who could pick up a skunk when its mouth was turned from him, and execute it with a hatchet, and we defy any town in the state to equal Ridgway's new woman.

Fruits in Their Season.

The small fruit season has practically ended. The strawberries and raspberries have had their day, and the black berries and whortleberries are on their last legs, as it were. But as one kind falls out of season, others take its place. We now have the bulky watermelon, the smaller but none the less desirable canteloupes and citron melon, pears, peaches, apples and plums in immense abundance and variety, and of exceptionally fine quality. Never have our markets been more abundantly supplied, and no doubt to the plentifulness and cheapness of wholesome fruits we are indebted for the general healthfulness of our town. In a little while we shall have grapes to add to our fruit menu. Truly, we are being greatly blest in having such a bountiful abundance.

Here's a Nice Egg Problem.

Some mighty intellects in Germantown and the Philadelphia Record, are now wrestling with the following problem. It is not very difficult of solution, but has already been the cause of considerable profanity these warm days out in that peaceful suburb: A woman took a basket of eggs to the city for sale. Upon being asked how many she had she replied: "If I take the eggs out of the basket two at a time, I have one left. If I take them out three at a time I have one left. If I take them out four at a time I have one left. If I take them five out at a time I have one lef If I take them out six at a time I have one left; but if I take them out seven at a time I have none left in the basket." How many eggs had she in the basket?

Don't Criticise a Printer's Dress.

The editor of the Curwensville Review gets off the following on account of a delinquent's wife making fun of his patched pantaloons: "The lady who yesterday called the attention of another to our patched breeches, whereat they both laughed heartily, is informed that a new pair will be purchased when her husband's bill is settled. It has been due nearly a year. Don't criticise a printer's dress while you are wearing silk purchased with money due us. Tell your husband to send us $10.75 and save the cost of a lawsuit. We need another pair of pants."

The Law and the Bloomers.

The conflict of great forces is foreshadowed in the news from Little Rock, Ark., that the police of that town have arrested a woman for riding a bicycle in bloomers, and announce that hereafter the bifurcated feminine garb will be strictly suppressed. We believe that it was a Wisconsin guardian of the peace who several years ago set the machinery of the law in motion against the Mother Hubbard gown. Arkansas law places it side by side with that historic opposition to unconventional garb, by proposing to suppress the bicycle garb.

Thus it is foreshadowd that the force of the law is to be set in motion against the force of a new feminine idea in dress. But the legal prohibition is not uniform. Only a day or two before the Little Rock manifestation an advanced young woman was married in bloomers, and the ceremony was performed by a magistrate whose legal authority is superior to that of the Little Rock police, and who tacitly accepted that extremely fin de siecle bridal costume as coming up to the legal requirements. If that bride should wheel her swift way to Little Rock, and there be arrested for wearing the articles of dress that had been vindicated by the Chicago Court, she might reasonably claim that the law does not know its own mind—a quality generally supposed to belong to women.

The administrators of Arkansas law doubtless think it wrong that women should wear the unmenticnables. Our better halves have done this metaphorically as far as the memory of man extends; but Little Rock morality, which winks at a good many things, could not stand the dire consequences of combining the metaphorical with the real. Hence the stern verdict, that, while the feminine shape may be exhibited, not only in bloomers, but in silken tights, upon uncounted stages, women may not adopt that costume to facilitate her rapid progress upon the wheel.

In the conflict between the law and fashion it is not difficult to foretell the result. Woman has not yet universally and unanimously made up her mind what the fashion in the matter of the bloomers really is. But let her once be convinced the fashion calls for the dress suited to the diamond frame, and not all the policemen in Christendom, backed by the laws of the Medes and Persians, can prevent her from donning the garment heretofore supposed to be exclusively masculine.

Of the manuscripts left unpublished by Robert Louis Stevenson at his death (not many, by the way), the first to reach the public is a collection of very original "Fables" in the September number of McCLURE'S MAGAZINE. One of them is a conversation between John Silver and "Cap'n" Smollett, of "Treasury Island," which is as delicious in its way as anything those worthies do or say in "Treasure Island" itself. In the same number Anthony Hope relates another adventure of the ever charming Princess Osra, an encounter in the forests of Zenda with an attractive and most courteous highwayman. There are also many other articles of absorbing interest in this number of this first class magazine.

Is It Suicide?

All physicians are not agreed as to the usefulness of bicycle riding. Here comes Dr. Marks, ex-superintendent of the St. Louis city hospital, who declares that owing to the excess of the exercise indulged in by bicycle riders, when a man or woman buys a wheel they take the first spadeful of earth from their grave. He calls it a suicide club, but then may be he can't ride and is mad. However, there is danger of undue exercise in riding a bicycle, and it should be avoided.

ANOTHER MISSIONARY OUTRAGE

An Infuriated Mob Attacks the Mission at Foo Chow.

Hong Kong, August 22.—Another outrage has been committed upon missionaries near Foo Chow. The American mission has been attacked by a large and infuriated mob armed with various weapons.

The chapel and schoolhouse of the mission were wrecked, and four of the native scholars were wounded. The foreign teachers, however, escaped injury.

A strong anti-foreign local feeling prevails at Foo Chow, and it is spreading among the populace, who are parading the public thoroughfares with cries of "drive out the foreign devils."

London, August 22.—A dispatch to the Times from Hong Kong this afternoon confirms the dispatch from Hong Kong announcing the attack upon the American mission at Foo Chow, and the dangerous state of the populace at that city. According to the Times' dispatch, the American school was situated just outside of the west gate of Foo Chow.

The dispatch adds: "The situation at Kucheng is unchanged. Captain John S. Newell, of the United States cruiser Detroit, and Dr. Hart have gone there from Foo Chow."

Firemen's Pensions.

At the last session of the legislature of this state a bill known as the "Firemen's Pension Bill" passed and subsequently received the signature of Governor Hastings. Under the requirements of the act it is necessary, in order for the various companies to receive the money from the state with which to pay pensions, that they organize an association in each town, and the association must be in working order by January 1, 1896. The law directs that the money shall be paid to the treasurers of the various cities and boroughs and by them to the association. The latter body attends to the payments to the beneficiaries through its board of directors. The law further stipulates that but one association shall be formed in the same town, and all firemen who desire to reap its benefits must be members in good standing of one of the companies included in their association. The money is paid those who become disabled in the service, or to the widows of those who may be killed in service. Many towns in the state have already formed an association for the purpose, and have placed themselves in a position to derive the benefits of the law for their members and their widows. It is a pleasure to know that the hard-working, self-sacrificing firemen will soon have an opportunity to put their disabled members on the pension roll.

So Much Per "Hello."

The new system of charging for telephone service in the larger cities announced by the Bell Telephone company will be appreciated by many, especially by those who only use it to a moderate extent. It is based upon the idea that a man should pay in proportion to what a man gets. A certain minimum business or number of calls must be practically guaranteed to warrant the expense of putting up and maintaining the necessary line and furnishing the instrument, but beyond that the cost to the subscriber is based absolutely on the number of times he "calls up" and as this number increases the cost per call to him decreases, which is certainly equitable. Large users will probably prefer to adhere to the old plan, its retention or the adoption of the new one being optional with each subscriber, but it is certain that many present subscribers will find it to their advantage to change, and that the new plan offers inducements to others who are not now subscribers to become such. The rates in this city will remain the same for the present.

Small Beginnings

Make great endings sometimes. Ailment that we are apt to consider trivial often grow, through neglect, into atrocious maladies, dangerous in themselves and productive of others. It is the disregard of the earlier indications of ill health which leads to the establishment of all sorts o maladies on a chronic basis. Moreovers there are certain disorders incident to the season, malaria and rheumatism, agains which it is always desirable to fortify the system after exposure to the conditions which produce them. Cold, damp and miasma are surely counteracted by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. After you hav incurred risk from these influences a wine glassful or two of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters directly afterward should be swallowed For malaria, dyspepsia, liver complaint kidney and bladder trouble, nervousness and debility it is the most deservedly popular of remedies and preventives. A wineglassful before meals promotes appetite.

When a person begins to grow thin there is something wrong. The waste is greater than the supply and it is only a question of time when the end must come.

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the digestive organs. If you can restore them to a healthy condition you will stop the waste, put on new flesh and cause them to feel better in every way. The food they eat will be digested and appropriated to the needs of the system, and a normal appetite will appear.

Consumption frequently follows a wasting of bodily tissue because nearly all consumptives have indigestion. The Shaker Digestive Cordial will restore the stomach to a healthy condition in a vast majority of cases. Get one of their books from your druggist and learn about this new and valuable remedy.

MANY WOMEN FAINTED.

A Steamer Went Down, But No Lives Were Lost.

Montreal, Ont., August 22.—The Richelieu and Ontario steamer Terrebonne, with a party of Knights Templars on board, filled and sunk at the foot of the Beauharnois canal about 11 o'clock last night. The steamer struck just as she entered the Cedar Rapids. The first concussion was not very perceptible, but a little further down the steamer struck again, this time with considerable violence. She swung partly around in the current. The fears of the passengers were thoroughly aroused, and several ladies fainted. Just after the steamer got out of the rapids, the engineer came on deck apparently greatly agitated and reported that the steamer was making water fast. This, of course, increased the terror of those on board. Several of them were prostrated. Despite their fears, however, the boat reached the foot of Beauharnois canal, where she settled in about seven feet of water.

All the baggage was saved, as the water was not deep enough to reach the upper deck. The unlucky sir knights and their ladies arrived here at 2.30 this morning, none the worse for their wreck. There were about fifteen Denver knights, sixty-seven members from Defiance, O., and their ladies, and the remainder were general tourists. A lady newspaper writer named Miss O. J. McClellan was a passenger. There were also aboard 101 knights from Saginaw, Mich.

Industrial Education and Our Foreign Trade.

A recent despatch to the Public Ledger from Washington described the utility of a system of high grade commercial education as a means of helping to increase our export trade in manufactured goods, the experience of Germany and other European countries being cited to prove that the idea is not a speculative or visionary one, but is fully supported by actual results. Another despatch aims to show that industrial education is the necessary complement of superior commercial training in the same direction, and sums up the conclusions to be drawn from the various experiments of the manufacturing nations of Europe in technical instruction. In general, it may be said that, while the United States has made great progress in recent years in manual training and in scientific and technological education, we are still deficient in those special schools for teaching particular trades which have proved of immense benefit to the industries of certain European countries, especially Austria Germany and France. It is gratifying to note that Philadelphia is well in the lead of American cities in this branch of industrial training, and that her Textile School is regarded as one of the most efficient institutions of its kind in the world. Our correspondent suggests that, as a great center of manufactures, it is within her power to give the first impetus to the movement for specialized industrial training, and to become the seat of a vast educational influence which shall raise American labor to a higher plane.

The results of the movement abroad, which have been summarized from a report of the United States Commissioner of Labor and other Government publications are of special interest to manufacturers and working men. They show that great progress has been made in Europe in recent years in providing the various industries and trades with superior facilities of education in their special work, and that if we would reap the full measure of success in competition with foreign manufacturers in the market of the world, we must catch up and keep pace with it. As it is not enough to make remarkable goods unless we have capable agents to sell them abroad, so, on the other hand, it is useless to train our clerks and salesmen for foreign trade unless we provide them with a class of wares which will withstand the carefully instructed competition of European workmen. Our manufacturers, therefore, have to face the question of combining in support of a system of higher industrial education, adapted to the needs of particular localities and of a particular trades, which shall fill the gap between our manual training schools and our scientific and technological institutes and college courses. The experience of Europe would seem to prove that their immediate self-interest is involved, and that the outlay required would be more than compensated by the commercial results, to say nothing of the general advancement of the country's industries and trade.

One Man Dead.

Pittsburg, August 22.—While a gang of Italians were digging a ditch on Porter avenue, in the Eleventh ward, to-day a cave-in occurred. The dirt was quickly shoveled off the men, when it was found that Joseph Sankers was dead. Another workman Polo Sotolo, was badly injured. Sotolo was taken to the Mercy hospital.

—The last of the season of the Pennsylvania Railroad's seashore excursions to Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle, Ocean City, Ayalon, Anglesea, Wildwood, and Holly Beach will be run on Thursday, August 29th, by special train of Pullman Parlor cars and day coaches. The merchant has secured his fall stock, the farmer gathered his harvest, his next season's crop planted and he is ready for a fall vacation. Now is the golden opportunity, the rates are half price and good for twelve days, with the privilege of stop over at Philadelphia on the return. a23-5t.

NOW IN THE BALANCE.

Both the Administration and Quay Must Await Developments.

Philadelphia, August 22.—Since yesterday's conventions republican politics have quieted down in Philadelphia, as both of the contestants are busy figuring on their possible delegates in the state convention and claiming that they will win. As each side is as positive as the other in its claims of victory and as many elements of uncertainty are working beneath the surface, no positive prediction of who will win the battle can be made at this time.

When the forces of both sides are mustered at Harrisburg on Wednesday next there promises to be a battle royal, and one desertion from either side may be sufficient to create a panic in the ranks and cause a stampede one way or the other. Much will undoubtedly depend on the personnel of the committee on credentials, and the side that secures a majority in the committee will have a big advantage. The Quay people talk as if they expect to control the credentials committee, but they may find they have counted their chickens before they are hatched. On the surface Quay certainly appears to have the advantage and to be reasonably sure of victory, but the positive way in which the Hastings leaders talk seem to indicate that they may have knowledge that many of the uninstructed delegates will be with them. Senator Quay left here to-day for Harrisburg, where he will open headquarters and remain until after the convention.

Protection for Agriculture.

There can be no misunderstanding as to the position occupied by the leading men of all parties, in the earlier days of the Republic, toward Protection for domestic agricultural products. Whatever differences of opinion may have arisen—too often shaded by words and mere theory—on the subject of Protection for domestic manufactures, on the question of adequate encouragement of agriculture they were substantially agreed at all times. The Democracy of the North never wavered in its efforts to care for wool and grain, for rice, sugar, tobacco, hemp, indigo and cotton, all of which it has been our policy to protect. How, then, can it be said that Protection is vicious? The South would have been beggared without the Protection given it on tobacco, rice and sugar, and at an earlier period on cotton.

What will the friends of a "Tariff for revenue only" do when they approach the early and subsequent periods in our history which are so replete with evidences of the object of legislation to encourage and protect the products of agriculture. Those duties were not laid for revenue, but solely to foster, encourage and protect the specific articles on which duties were laid. The cause of agriculture was then with us—as it had ever been throughout ancient and modern history—a subject of our constant care and solicitude, and it was not allowed to suffer because of the anxiety which was felt for cheap raw material for our manufacturing industries.

The discussion pending the framing of our first Tariff law in 1789 leaves no possible doubt as to the primary object of laying duties on products which we either produced, or hoped to produce, on our own soil. The duty on cotton of three cents a pound was suggested by Mr. Burke of South Carolina. The duty on hemp was suggested by Mr. Moore, of Kentucky and several others. The duty on ale, beer and porter was supported, in aid of hop and barley growing, by Mr. Madison. The duties on tallow, cheese and indigo were all laid to encourage agriculture and not "for revenue only." Tobacco leaf came in for Protection in 1832, although we were then large exporters of it. Wheat was put in our Tariff laws in 1824, corn in 1842, rice in 1846. On sugar there was a duty for revenue only at the outset. It did not reach the Protection point until 1816, when the three cents then given brown sugar was equivalent to a half cent of Protection.

This policy gradually grew until it has practically embraced all our agricultural products that are liable to be interfered with by importations, and the basis of these duties is Protection and encouragement for our farmers as against foreign products of like kind. That this was the object of these duties was not only openly expressed by their authors, but as late as 1841 Hon. Lewis McLane, of Delaware—who had been a member of the House for ten years, Secretary of the Treasury under Jackson, and a severe Jackson Democrat—in making an able argument in the Senate in favor of encouraging home industries and alluding to the cause of agriculture, said:

Our duties upon the agricultural products of foreign countries were not imposed for purpose of revenue, but for the Protection of our agricultural industries. And although gentlemen may be disposed to regard these regulations lightly now, because of the peculiar condition of foreign countries heretofore, they are, nevertheless, indicative of the sense we entertain of our true policy.

And Make Money At It.

If you only knew it, the trouble is with your digestion. If that was good you would sleep better, work better, and make your money at it. How can one "get on" when the whole system is sluggish? But people don't realize what is the trouble. A box of Ripans Tabules makes life worth living. At druggists.

The Ohio Convention.

The Democratic State Convention of Ohio did everything it was expected to do; nominated Campbell for Governor n the face of his protests; turned down the free silver element; indorsed Cleveland as the wisest statesman of the age, and complimented Brice for his able services in the Senate. Though the convention did not specify the Senatorial services in question, the country has not forgotten that the most conspicuous of them was surrendering to Senator Quay's insistence for amendments to the Wilson tariff bill.

The nomination of James E. Campbell for Governor was a commendable action on the part of the convention, though the candidate was honestly opposed to receiving the honor. The convention knew the temper of the man, which he illustrated in his speech of acceptance by the declaration that "a soldier may fall, but he must never falter." Governor Campbell earned his title of "Fighting Jimmy" in the heated campaigns before the war, and lost nothing of the distinction during his honorable service during the war. He is a man of splendid ability, clean character and high purposes, and, while he is an unwilling candidate, there can be no question but that he is a strong one.

It is gratifying that the free silver cult was given no encouragement in Ohio. The Republican convention at Zanesville adopted an unequivocal sound money plank, and now the democratic convention at Springfield has, at least, turned down the radical free silver idea.

The encomiums passed upon President Cleveland and Senator Brice were very extravagant, but may be attributed partly to party exuberance and partly to Brice's silent influences. They will have no weight with the American people and may be forgotten in consideration of the nomination of a good candidate and a resistance to financial heresy.

News Notes.

Twelve bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Gumry hotel, Denver, which was wrecked by a boiler explosion on Monday night. It is believed that twenty-five persons lost their lives in the wreck. Those who were not killed outright were slowly burned to death.

The National Keely league is in convention at Harrisburg. Representatives are present from every state where there is a Keeley institute, but the crowd is not as large as was expected. The executive committee's report states that over 270,000 drunkards have been cured, and that laws have been passed in a number of states giving the indigent drunkard the privilege of the Keeley league treatment.

The American line new steamer, St. Louis, had an official trial on Tuesday and maintained a speed of twenty-two and three-tenths knots per hour for over four hours, carrying the stars and stripes faster than any flag had ever been carried through the English channel.

An earthquake shock was felt at Maysville, Kentucky, on Monday afternoon.

A pleasure steam yacht with thirteen passengers and a crew of three, foundered at Buffalo on Tuesday evening, and six of the passengers were drowned.

J. M. Ryan, the champion, broke the record for high jump at Dublin on Tuesday by clearing six feet four and a half inches.

Harvest operations throughout Canada are now sufficiently advanced to enable an accurate estimate to be made of the total crop of wheat of the Dominion this year. It shows a total increase of over 8,000,000 bushels more than last year. The crop for 1895 is 45,000,000 bushels.

A dispatch from Triests says there is a report that an explosion occurred Monday at the artillery barracks at Toola, a Russian province, in which three hundred persons are said to have been killed. The barracks had been undermined, it is supposed by nihilists.

Vanner Improving.

Henry Vanner, of Boalsburg, who attempted to commit suicide several weeks ago by taking a large dose of corrosive sublimate, is gradually improving and the attending physicians have hopes of his recovery. His stomach was paralyzed for about two weeks and was scarcely able to retain anything.

The further opening up of the South Central group of gold mines, and the erection of a Stamp Mill to reduce the company's ore to bullion, is a square, legitimate use of capital.

1. Mr. Barry, formerly of Cripple Creek, the Bonanza gold camp of Colorado, sold his interests there, and bought the Morning Star gold mine, a producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

2. Captain Plummer, formerly of the Granite Mountain mine, is now working the Delamar Mine, a large producer in the vicinity of the South Central group.

As the Granite Mountain (Gold and Silver Mining Co.) stock rose from about twelve cents a share to over $50 a share, and paid from 25 cents to 50 cents per share per month in dividends, under the superintendency of Captain Plummer, we consider him a pretty safe guide to follow in mining, and we invite you to participate in the nyestment.

A FATAL ENDING.

Sad Results of a Race Between Firemen at Bradford.

Bradford, Pa., Aug. 23.—There was a tragic finish to a hub and hub race at the volunteer firemen's tournament here today. Simon McMahon, of Salamunca, N. Y., was killed, and M. C. Hubbell was critically injured.

The Northwestern Volunteer Firemen's association has held a tournament here, lasting two days. Half a dozen counties of this state were represented and several in New York. The climax of the festivities were to have been reached this afternoon with a hub and hub race.

The Abbott Hose company, of Salamanca, N. Y., was entered in the race and drew a position along side of D. F. Whipple Hose company, of Cuba, N. Y. When the starter's pistol was fired both companies got away and even over the 200 yard course in a dead heat, dragging the heavy hose carts behind them.

Simon McMahon was in the lead on the Abbott's drag rope, and just as he crossed the finish line, stumbled and fell. Two other members of the team fell over his postrate body. Before the other runners could check their speed a wheel of the heavy hose cart struck McMahon in the left side, just as he was attempting to get up. The cart bounded high up in the air and struck the other two men. McMahon was conveyed to the Riddell house in a carriage, where he died in less than an hour. He was 22 years old. Mart C. Hubbell, one of the men who was struck by the cart, is now in a critical condition and he may not recover.

The Christian Endeavor.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 23.—A perfect day broke upon Erie and 4,000 zealous Pennsylvania Christian Endeavorers and their friends hailed it by coming out at sunrise and singing, praises God from whom al blessings flow.

Prayer meeting were then held all over the city. The feature of to-day's meeting were the noonday sessions at the shops, docks, jail, hospital and other public places. They were conducted by bands of leaders, who were accompanied by fotry or fifty ladies and gentlemen as singers and speakers.

Secretary McDonald, of Altoona, reported a total of 3,665 societies in the state with a membership of 187,800, a gain of 506 societies in ten months. Every county in the state is represented. Philadelphia leads with 402 societies and Allegheny county is next.

Twenty-one thousand one hundred and eighty-three dollars has been raised for missionary and benevolent work. The treasurer reported a deficit of $300.

Rev. W. A. Stanton, D. D., of Pottsburg, preached the convention sermon this afternoon. The services on the tent endeavor are attended by from 4,000 to 5,000 people.

Recreation vs. Business.

No one is in business for their health, You might just as well get right down to rock bottom first as last. There is no use cursing and bewailing your bad luck and envying the good fortune of others. The first thing to do is to buy right and get your expenses down to the lowest economical point, then if you are underbid, find out how it was done. If the other fellow cannot work cheaper than you, then he is losing money and cannot last long. Don't take business at a loss with the intention of making it upon future business, because the customer who buys from the lowest bidder, is shaped enough not to let you get even. Let every job stand on its own bottom and do nothing that there is not some profit in.

A Mount Union Man Killed

Huntingdon, August 23.—Edward L. Campbell, of Mount Union, known by the name of "Reddy" Campbell, was picked up on the railroad track a short distance east of Ardenheim at 2 o'clock this morning with both legs horribly mangled and brought to this place. He was likely ground under the wheels of an eastbound freight from which he had fallen. His condition was such that it was deemed best not to attempt amputation for a time, and his death at 10.05 o'clock proved the wisdom of the delay. Campbell resided with his widowed mother and a sister at Mount Union. He was about 24 years of age.

A New Thing in Bicycles.

A Reading bicycle company is turning out what is claimed to be a new thing in wheels—a cicycle carrier. There are orders on hand for two thousand of them. The carrier has three wheels, the rider occupying the usual saddle back of the front wheel while in the centre of two wheels over the axle is the carrier which has a capacity of 200 pounds. They are adapted for the use of bakers, grocers, laundrymen and general light delivery purposes.

Stage Fares.

In 1820 the fare, by stage, from Harrisburg to Bellefonte was $6, divided as follows: To Clark's Ferry $1, to Millerstown $2, to Lewistown $4, to Bellefonte $6. Many of the "Reporter" readers will remember when opposition stage lines were running between Lewistown and Bellefonte. Four-horse coaches made daily trips, one line by Waddy Graham and the other by Bob Cummings, the distance near 30 miles, and the rivalry became so great that the fare was cut down to 25 cents and frequently dinner thrown in at the end of the route, and each team on a gallop to get ahead.

The Bellefonte Academy.

The advertisement of the Bellefonte Academy, which appears in another column of this issue, recalls to mind the fact we have in Centre county one of the oldest, if not the oldest, Academy in the State, and one which has a record for thoroughness in preparatory work, whether for college, teaching or business, that is not surpassed by the oldest schools in the country. Established in 1806, it has since that time graduated hundreds of students who have filled the highest and most trustworthy positions in professional and in business life. The oldest and most prominent inhabitants in the county received their preparatory education at the Bellefonte Academy. The Burnsides, Shugerts, Curtins, Humes, Greggs, Walkers, and other families have their names enrolled on the early rolls of this time-honored institution. The Academy has progressed in its work until now it has in attendance nearly one hundred students from the town, county and other parts of the country.

The new catalogue just issued shows twenty-seven different towns and cities represented. That is a splendid record and we wish the success may continue, as we are sure it will. The past year was remarkably successful. Five Academy boys graduated at the Pennsylvania State College, two of whom were among the five first honor men. One graduated from Haverford and one from the University of Pennsylvania. Another graduated from the Jefferson Medical University of Philadelphia. Of the graduating class at the Academy one young lady entered Mt. Holyoke on certificate, two young men passed the examinations for Princeton, with great credit, and three others will enter the State College, while two will teach in the county schools, having received first class certificates.

The faculty number five instructors of wide experience in their respective lines of work, and the school is thereby enabled not only to offer any branch needed in Academical work but to teach it in the most thorough manner. The record of its students always attests this fact. The convenience of the railroad schedule and the arrangement of school schedules to suit has drawn to Bellefonte large numbers of students from the country and the towns lying along the railroads.

For fifty dollars a year just as good education can be secured right here at the Bellefonte Academy as many students in other counties where such good Academies do not exist are forced to seek away from home at an expense varying from $300 to $1,000. Seats for the new year, which opens on Wednesday, September 11th, should be spoken for soon. Students, however, may enter at any time, and are charged from the time they enter.

Pleasant Social Event.

The village of Lamar in Nittany valley was literally besieged by young ladies on Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being a tea party given by Miss Candace Loveland to twelve of her young lady friends. After an elegant supper had been served, which was made doubly enjoyable by the entertaining qualities of the hostess, Miss Loveland, the party repaired to the lawn tennis court until dusk, after which indoor games, music, &c, were indulged in. Among those present were Miss Ella Everhart, Miss Julia Sloan, of Lock Haven; Miss Alice Smith, of Bellefonte, and the Misses Irvin, of Jacksonville.

The Band Festival Again To-Night.

The Bellefonte Band at its festival last night had a very good turnout, and the free concert was much enjoyed by all. The festival will be continued again this evening and everybody is invited to attend. The Zion band will be here this evening to furnish the music, and this in itself should be sufficient to draw a large crowd. Don't forget that the place is on the stone school house grounds.

Another Saw Mill Burned.

The Elk county Gazette says at Saw Mill Run, about five miles from Centreville, on the N. Y. L. E. & W. R. R., the saw mill of W. H. Hyde & Co., was burned Sunday morning last. The mill, machinery, three million feet of hemlock and hard wood sawed lumber, and a black smith shop, were burned. The loss is about $28,000, with no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown.

LOST SOULS.

Queer Statistics on the Supposed Population of Hell.

In a late edition of an English free thinker's magazine we find some curious statistics on the relative number of souls that have been saved and lost since the creation of the world. They are very faulty as well as rashly presumptive—this latter remark refers to the probable number of souls lost between the date of the birth of Adam and that of Christ—but are queer and interesting nevertheless. The following is a synopsis of the article.

In round numbers the earth has a population of 1,300,000,000, of whom 300,000,000 are professed Christians, the other 1,000,000,000 being Mohammedans, Buddhists, Jews, Pagans and heathens. The whole race was condemned to eternal punishment for the sin of Adam. This was the fall of man, and for which there was and is no redemption save through the death of Christ.

Biblical chronology gives the earth a period of 6,000 years. From Adam's time down to the date of the birth of Christ was 4,000 years, during which time all human souls were lost. The population of the globe during that 4,000 years averaged, we will say, 1,000,000,000. Three generations, or 3,000,000,000, passed away each century.

Forty centuries, therefore, consigned 120,000,000,000 human souls to eternal fire and if we are to believe the doctrine of eternal punishment these souls must still be in hell. In the 1,900 years which have elapsed since the birth of Christ, 57,000,000,000 more of human beings have lived and died. If all the Christians, nominal and real, who have ever lived on the face of the earth have been saved, they would not number more than 18,000,000,000. Now if we deduct the latter number from the grand total of 177,000,000,000, the number which have been born since the creation, we find that 150,000,000,000 of souls are sufferng the torments of hell fire against a possible 18,000,000,000 who have escaped. But this is not the whole truth. No one believes that over 10 per cent. of the so-called Christians have been saved, which is very doubtful, then heaven contains a population of less than 1,800,000,000, while that of hell aggregates upward of 200,000,000,000.—St. Louis Republic.

The Origin of Postage Stamps.

The origin of the postage stamp has a tinge of romance in it. It was thirty-seven years ago that Rowland Hill, while crossing a district in the north of England, arrived at the door of an inn where a postman had stopped to deliver a letter. A young girl came out to receive it; she turned it over and over in her hand and asked the price of postage. This was a large sum, and evidently the girl was poor, for the postmaster demanded a shilling. She sighed sadly and said that the letter was from her brother, but that she had no money, and so she returned the letter to the postman. Touched with pity, Mr. Hill paid the postage and gave the letter to the girl, who seemed very much embarassed. Scarcely had the postman turned his back, when the inn-keeper's young daughter confessed that it was a trick between her and her brother. Some signs on the envelope told her all she wanted to know, but the letter contained no writing. "We are so poor," she added, "that we invented this mode of corresponding without paying for the letters." The traveler continuing his road asked himself if a system giving rise to such frauds was not a vicious one. Before sunset Rowland had planned to organize the postal service upon a new basis—with what success is known to the world.

THE great necessity of the free silver forces is thorough and immediate organization. The fact that the bankers of the East are able to spend millions of dollars in order to hold their present daily grip on the financial system of the government should remind the friends of the people's cause that they must be on the alert. That an overwhelming majority of the people want silver restored is a well known fact, but this must not cause the friends of bimetallism to be over-confident and indifferent. They must remember that capital will not suffer defeat without making a desperate struggle. There is no end to the methods that will be resorted to by the great money power to foster their own selfish interests. Free silver clubs should be organized in every township and precinct in the country. Let the people prepare to defeat once and forever these enemies of their prosperity.—St. Francois (Mo.) Herald.

News Notes.

The coliseum building, a great open structure which was being erected by the Chicago Exhibition company at 63d and Stony Island avenue, Chicago, was wrecked on Wednesday night by the collapse of the iron roof. No one was killed. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The site of the coliseum is known to all World's Fair visitors as the site of Buffalo Bill's wild west show.

Martin Beam, a prosperous farmer of Napoleon, Ohio, fell from an apple tree Tuesday and met death in a most horrible manner. In falling he struck the stump of a broken limb. The jagged wood entered his back and came out through his abdomen and when found by his family he was a most pitable sight. Henry Luderman was also killed in the same locality by being hit on the head by the handle of his grindstone, which was worked by wind mill power.

From Bangalore, India.

We have been permitted to copy the following extracts from a private letter dated July 16, from Rev. D. S. Bagshaw, formerly of Juniata township, this county, now a missionary in India:

I have been suffering with sore eyes caused by nervousness. Have been under treatment about three weeks. I am better but do not use my eyes long at a time.

We expect to go to the planes one week from to-day; will be glad to go down for several reasons; one is we do not like to board.

Our work is progressing nicely. They had three baptisms last monthly meeting. Our school work is doing very well. Of course, when I am away I do not have much to write about my field. There are some things in Bangalore which might be interesting if I could describe them. One is the old fort, or walled city. The walls are built mostly of stone, some brick. The walls are built, then filled between with sand taken from the trench outside, making a wall about twenty feet thick and twelve feet high. On top of this broad wall about four feet high, through which are port holes. In one part of the fort are a great many dungeons and cells and the king's palace, that is, his palace when he was compelled to take shelter in the fort. Inside are inclined planes to go up and down.

Another place of interest is the public gardens. There are fine plants and different kinds of animals, such as tigers, leopards, monkeys, bears, etc., in short, the zoo on a small scale. One of the attractions is a large hall covered entirely with glass; and all the walls are of glass.

—Mr. William Bodle, of Fillmore is rejoicing over the arrival at his home one day last week of a new heir.

—The kitchen attached to the property of William Bone, of Fillmore, was destroyed by fire one day last week.

—There was another quite heavy rain storm on Saturday afternoon, which cooled off the atmosphere considerable.

—The music in the Episcopal church on Sunday night was of a very high character, and much enjoyed by all who heard it.

—Benner Stere, of Fleming, has recently patented a very neat tool in the shape of a wire stretcher, which is intended to do the work of a number of other tools heretofore required to perform the same service.

—Tyrone has a sensation. On Friday afternoon the dead body of a Hungarian was found in an adjacent cornfield. No trace of whom the man was or his murderer has yet been discovered.

—The bicycle races in Tyrone on Saturday were a grand success under the direction of Mr. George Bush, who acted as referee. Lester E. Sheffer was up and won three prizes—one second and two thirds. Lester is proving himself quite a rider.

—Mr. John Anderson has just received a full outfit of furnishings for his pool and billiard tables, and when the same are fixed up, the lovers of that kind of recreation will almost think that they are in New York, from the magnificence of the surroundings.

—The remains of Mrs. Mary Parsons were brought to Bellefonte on the 4.52 train on Friday evening, and funeral services were held in the Methodist church immediately thereafter, Rev. J. W. Rue officiating. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

—The red mill dam at Spring Mills was dried off, on Thursday, in order that the gates could be repaired and it is said that one thousand eels, besides many bushel of cat-fish and suckers were caught. Mr Harter invited his customers to make a fishing frolic and all got as many as they could carry home.

—Some of the most serious disasters now occuring in all parts of the state are those noted in quarries, where much carelessness is practiced in handling loads of dynamite necessary to such blasts. One of these accidents occurred in Bucks county the other day in which a number of workmen were seriously injured.

—Mrs. Harry Flack, who was mentioned in this paper the other day as being very low with typhoid fever at her home in Coleville, died on Friday. She is survived by a husband and three children. The funeral, took place Sunday, interment to be made in the Union cemetery. To-day there is said to be some dozen or more cases of fever in that ill-fated place.

—The Bald Eagle mill, operated by H. W. Hoover, was robbed last night. A lot of chop and flour was taken by the night marauders. Our informant states that he expected to hear of some stealing going on last night as he noticed certain people who have a residence in the Bald Eagle community moving about and in an active mood yesterday.—Saturdays' Tyrone Herald.

—We have received from Mr. James S Kent, of Grand Junction, Col., a number of papers giving an outline of the fourth annual peach day which will be held in that place on September 4th. Peach day in Colorada is a very important affair, and the people travel hundreds of miles to be present at one of these gatherings, Judging from the papers received the people out there are not at all penurious in their preparations for their annual peach day.

—Adolphus A. Stone, aged 61 years, died at his residence in Kansas City, Mo., at 8 o'clock, on the morning of the 11th inst. He is survived by a widow, one brother and two sisters as follows: Mrs. Carrie A. Stone, of Kansas City; Henry H. Stone, of Chicago; Mrs. E. Allen, of Williamsport, and Mrs. Prudence Haines, of Philipsburg. Mr. Stone will be remembered by the older citizens of Bellefonte, as he lived here when a young man, and many of them will be sorry to learn of his death. His remains were taken to Marshall, Mo., for interment.

—A perplexing case is in 'Squire Dawson's hands at Uniontown, Fayette county, for decision. Howard Sturgis lives on Capt. James Hustead's farm in South Union township, and in his agreement he was to get half the proceeds of the farm. Hustead put a cow to pasture on the farm and she had a calf a week ago. Sturgis claimed a half interest in the calf, and sold it to a butcher, but Hustead would not give it up. The butcher sued to get possession of the calf, and the disputed point is whether the calf, having been born on the farm from a cow temporarily quartered thereon, shall be considered "proceeds of the farm."

—D. P. Ray, Jr., a sixteen-year-old lad in Tyrone, fell a distance of eighteen feet on Tuesday and beyond a few scratches was not injured. Verily Tyrone boys must be made of very tough stuff.

—Well, if "Billy" Stewart isn't right in it with playing ball with the Pittsburgers, then we'll lose. He is now playing the best ball of his life, and we only hope that he will be able to keep it up.

—On Wednesday the Quay sympathizers were rejoicing in Bellefonte but to day there does not seem to be so much for them to rejoice over. That is the way with politics at all times. One day you are up and the next day you are not up so high.

—Sherwood J. Davis and Miss Mable Drake were married, in Lock Haven, last Thursday evening. The groom is a nephew of J. W. Furey, at one time associate editor of the Watchman, and made his home here when a boy.

—The Bellefonte Band had another successful night at their festival and concert on Monday night. The Coleville band was in and furnished the music for this occasion, and it is needless to say that the same was much enjoyed by all who heard it.

—Last week Benjamin Gentzel, of Spring township, secured from John Uzzle of Snow Shoe, a large five pronged buck, and placed the same in his deer park. Mr. Gentzel is a great admirer of a deer, and has some fine specimens in his park.

—It is said that a clothing merchant of Tyrone will open up a branch store in the new store room in the Pruner Block now occupied by Parrish's drug store, just as soon as the drug store is moved into its permanent location.

—The potato yield in Centre county this year appears to be beyond anything in the past. The weather has been very favorable for the growth of the crop and the potatoes generally are large. The farmers have commenced digging the tubers and hardly know what to do with them.

—The announcement that there is a ten dollar counterfeit note afloat does not worry us, as bills of that denomination never find their way into our wallet. However, for the information of others we will mention that it is on the First National Bank of Detroit, series of 1882, check letter C.

—It is stated that Matt. Dooley went away to-day on a little trip, and it is also quietly whispered that when he returns he will not be alone. Just where he went it is hard to tell, but if what is currently reported is correct, Matthew is going to leave his native state and go into that of matrimony. Congratulations are now in order.

—The Gazette Friday published quite an exciting snake story written by a young lady of near Snow Shoe. If the half of the article is true, the lady certainly deserves much credit for giving to the reading world such an accurate knowledge of how numerous these rattling reptiles are in that region.

—A man by the name of Warner has purchased the Penn Cave property for the sum of $9,000, and will take possession of the same on April 1st next. The new purchaser is from Williamsport, and it is his intention to fix up the property in good shape and boom it as a summer resort. We trust that he will have success with his venture.

—It is announced that the Supreme Court of this State has rendered a decision to the effect that a property owner who has been notified to repair a sidewalk can be held responsible for any injury that befell a pedestrian by reason of his neglect. This being so, damages may be collected of said owners when anybody brings suit to recover for broken limbs or other injuries.

—We are pleased to announce that Mr. Nathaniel Krape, of Benner township, who had been so ill with typhoid fever that his life was despaired of, he having taken a relapse, has again so far recovered that he now bids fair soon to be out and around again. Mr. Krape is one of the most prominent farmers in the region of Rock, and all his friends will rejoice to know of his recovery.

—There are still a number of cases of typhoid fever at Coleville, Among those who are yet ill, might be mentioned Mrs. Flack who is in a critical condition, and is not likely to recover. A daughter of Mrs. Davis is sick and William Myers and three children are down with the dread disease. There are a number of others who are recovering, whose names we cannot recall.

—It now seems pretty certain that Rudolph Schad will be the next Superintendent of the Bellefonte Gas Plant. A committee appointed to consider the various applications, met last night and after looking over the entire list, selected Mr. Schad as the one who would most likely be capable of managing the plant the best. The selection now only needs the sanction of the Board of Directors.

—Robert Brown, a Milesburg iron worker, was badly burned at the Logan iron works, near Lewistown, a few days ago. He was waiting until James McKinley had finished rolling two 30 ft bars of inch round iron, when something caught one of the bars and threw it out of place. It struck Brown on the back of the head, knocking him down and burning his neck and shoulders. It will be some time before he will be able to go back to work.

Court Proceedings.

The doings in court so far can be summed up about as follows:

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Stoner, f. & b., the jury found him guilty and the usual sentence was imposed.

Commonwealth vs. J. C. Miller, alias Wilson, larceny; plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1, costs of prosecution and to restore goods if they were not already restored, and to undergo an imprisonment in the county jail for a period of four months,

Commonwealth vs. James Somers, f. & b.; case settled.

Commonwealth vs. William Essington, f. & b. Guilty and the usual sentence imposed.

Commonwealth vs. Michael Walk, cutting timber on the lands of another. Not guilty, and the prosecutor, Henry Stevens, to pay the costs.

The grand jury found true bills in the following cases:

Commonwealth vs. Abraham Holderman, malicious mischief.

Commonwealth vs. Fred Dunbar f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. George Tate, f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. Milton Weyman, f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. William Sayers, f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. David Gummo, f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. William Tate, f. & b.

Commonwealth vs. C. J. King, assault & battery.

Commonwealth vs. Boyd Stonerode, forgery; and another against the same for false pretense.

To Go Around the World.

The postal clerks famous dog Owney, who has traveled over the United States, has sailed for a trip around the world. He will go to Hong Kong on the Northern Pacific steamer Victor as the guest of Captain John Panton. The captain will put him aboard an English mail steamer bound for London via India and Suez Owney will then be sent to New York and back to Tacoma.

—On reading the morning papers one could not tell whether Quay or Hastings was in the lead. One paper said that Quay had 158 delegates while the other paper said that Hastings had 153. As there are only 287 delegates in the convention somebody must have been lying somewhere.

—Prof. Clarence Davis, the man who was just recently released from a year's term of imprisonment in the county jail was again put back last night; this time for shooting at some boy, which he done on Monday evening. He was arrested and incarcerated last night. Two other prisoners were also received at the jail at the same time.

—The band of young men who labeled themselves Covey's Reserves, and hied themselves down the Bald Eagle Valley for an outing on wheels a week or so ago, returned yesterday afternoon, "ragged and sassy," but not sorry that they had ventured out alone and so far away. The boys report having had a good time.—Tyrone Herald.

—The bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Dooley, returned home on Tuesday and were given a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Bishop street. Afterwards they proceeded to their home on East High street, where everything was in readiness for their reception. In the evening they were given a serenade by the band and later by a band of calithumpians.

—She had fidgeted in her chair for a good hour, until she could stand it no longer. Said she, in accents which told how she had suffered: "George, you are indifferent to me; I will be your wife if you will only ask me; and, if you don't want me say so. But there is one thing you must understand, once for all; this is not a continuous performance house".

—Mr. Will Goss, of Jeffries, had an experience with a rattle snake one day last week which causes him to shudder whenever he thinks of it. He was out gathering berries, and happened to tramp on a large rattle snake, which immediately sank its fangs in one of his shoes and coiled aronnd his ankle. He managed to kick it off and attempted to seize a large rock to throw at it when he discovered a large yellow rattler under the rock. Securing another stone he killed the one which had first attacked him, them followed up the good work by destroying the yellow one and another, while the fourth made its escape. Then William concluded he was tired picking berries, and went home.—Houtzdale Observer.

—Two weeks ago Boyd Stonerode came into this office and vigorously protested against an article which had appeared in this paper in which he alleged he was blamed with being the party who tried to get the money from the Centre Hall bank on a forged check, and at the time stoutly maintained that he was innocent. At the very time evidence was being gathered against the man and the next morning he was arrested charged with being the very person. His case has now been before the grand jury and that august body has returned two true bills against him, one for forgery and the other for false pretense. In the end it might have been better for Mr. Stonerode if he had kept his mouth shut.

COLEVILLE'S EPIDEMIC.

Instead of Getting Better It is Growing Worse Steadily.

At different times we have called the attention of our readers to the prevalence of typhoid fever in the borough of Coleville. The disease has now run so long that it has become epidemic, and threatens to soon grow even worse, if such a thing is possible. All told there has been upwards of fifty or more cases out there and at the present time there are some twelve or thirteen cases, one or two of which are very bad. There have been various opinions expressed as to the cause of the disease, and the reason of its hanging along as it does, but if the people would look at it in the right light, they would soon see why it is not checked.

During the three or four months that the disease has been in that village there have been no steps taken, so far as we can learn, to take the necessary steps to rid the town of the disease. The people out there, at least some of them, who have disease, have thus far been unable to procure the required help as nurses and also other necessaries to rid them of the affliction. What they need is help in every way—financially as well as in other ways. Several persons have given it as their opinion that the sanitary condition of the town is not what it should be, but they are unable to put it in better shape. What they need, so far as we are able to learn, is a general cleaning up everywhere. This should be done and then the proper steps taken towards the abatement of the disease. To do this will require some money and considerable time and work.

It has been suggested, and we think it the proper idea, that the people out there go to work and get up a petition to the Bellefonte Board of Health that they take charge of the town and see to it that any cleaning up that should be done, be done at once. And that anything else that ought to be done for the abatement of this epidemic, be attended to. This, of course, will take some money, but the people of Bellefonte should not hesitate at any expense to get rid of such an epidemic as has been going on there for so long. And we really do not think that they will. Let the Board of Health, if appealed to, take hold of the affair at once, and then draw on the borough fund for all the money necessary, and there is no doubt but that the bill will be allowed. But whatever is to be done, should be done at once.

Isaiah Struble Killed.

The sad intelligence was received here late on Monday evening of an accident which resulted in the sudden death of Mr. Isaiah Struble, between seven and eight o'clock on Mondoy evening. The particulars are few, but from what has been learned it seems that Mr. Struble was out in the field plowing with a gang plow, in which he had four horses hitched. In some way or other the animals became frightened and started to run away. Mr. Struble in endeavoring to stop them became entangled in the lines and was drawn under the horses' feet. He was trampled upon, with the result that his skull was crushed and he was otherwise badly injured. He lived but a short while after the accident.

Deceased was one of the best known farmers in this county and also a prominent granger. He was aged about 63 years, and leaves a wife and a number of children to mourn his sad and untimely death.

Woman a ——— ?

Woman is a conundrum most decidedly. Still we do not propose to give her up. Let a woman have her health and spirits and she is the sunshine of the house. But suppose she is sick, what then? Why, then there is a shadow over all the house. Happily in thousands of homes, such shadows have been removed. Thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the diseases and weaknesses incident to their sex have been removed, and with health restored, their bright spirits have come back, and the household have passed from the winter of its discontent to a glad summer of comfort. O, suffering women, for your own sake, and for the sake of those about you, use these simple means and be healed. The only remedy so effective in nervous and general prostration. "Female Weakness," periodical pains, irregularities and kindred ailments, that it can be guaranteed or sold on trial.

Warning to Cigarette Smokers.

Another warning has been given to excessive smokers in the death of Oscar Cunningham, a young man who lived seven miles from Dexter, Mo. The desire to smoke this weed with this victim became so strong that he had a cigarette in his mouth all the time.

When death came he was smoking a cigarette and had grown so emaciated from the use of the poison that he had to take his bed.

He awoke at 12 o'clock Saturday night rolled a cigarette, lighted it, called for a dring of water, and expired in an instant. He smoked about 100 daily.

Another Railroad.

Work was commenced this week on the new railroad extending from Altoona to Philipsburg, which is to be known as the Altoona and Philipsburg railroad. The new line intersects at Philipsburg with the Beech Creek railroad, which extends by connection with the Reading roads to Philadelphia. The road, when completed, opens valuable bituminous coal, timber and farm lands for that section of Pennsylvania.

Labor Day.

Labor Day will occur in Pennsylvania this year on Saturday September 7. More interest is taken in banking than in industrials as to the date of the holiday, as financial institutions must close, and maturing paper looked after, whether the day is celebrated or not by those for whom it was ostensibly established. As the law formerly fixed the first Monday in september as the date, some doubt existed as to when it really occured. The attorney general's department at Harrisburg being asked for official information on the point replied that Labor Day this year would fall on September 7.

Geary, of Lock Haven; County Surveyor, John L. Eckel, of Green township; Coroner, Dr. J. B. McCloskey, of Mill Hall; delegates to the state convention, T. C. Hipple, P. H. Kane and J. C. Houlahan. J. F. Marshall was chosen county chairman.

To Destroy Stumps.

To destroy stumps bore a hole one or two inches in diameter, according to size of tree, and eighteen inches deep; put in an ounce and a half of saltpetre, fill with water and plug up closely. In six months put in the same hole half a gill of kerosene oil and then light. The stump will smolder away without blazing, even down to every part of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes.

Notice to Voters.

The Assessors will be at the places for holding the elections throughout the county on the 4th and 5th of Sept. for the purpose of revising their registry lists. On Friday, Sept. 6th, the books will be returned by the Assessors to the County Commissioners.

—If the people of Bellefonte have any regard for the health of the town they had better take some interest in the neighboring village of Coleville. See full particulars in another article in this paper.

QUAY ELECTED CHAIRMAN.

Gilkeson Withdrew, Leaving Quay a Clear Field.

A telegraph dispatch from Harrisburg states that "Jack" Robinson was elected temporary chairman of the convention, Gov. Hastings permanent chairman, Col. Gilkeson withdrew as a candidate for State Chairman and Quay was elected by acclamation. This is a victory for the Beaver statesman.

The "Texas Rangers" Here.

The "Texas Rangers," a jolly set of Tyrone young men, made their appearance in this place Monday evening about seven o'clock with a great blowing of trumpets and all the other hideous noises that it is possible for the human brain to conjure up and mortal man to make without seriously injuring his blowing organs, and after a full demonstration of their jollying powers, they went into camp just south of town and there spent the night; that is, there is where they were supposed to be spending the night, but in reality the boys were not all there, nor is it expected that they would be. They are out for fun, and they are having it; but it is all good, innocent jolly fun, the kind that does no harm to anybody. The "Rangers" are on an overland trip to Eagles Mere, ten miles south of Williamsport, where they will go into camp a few days, returning in time to reach Tyrone again two weeks from Saturday. They will stop at all the principal towns along the way and anticipate having a most delightful time. They are led by "Eagle Eye" Ed. (G. Edgar) Toner. The full party of Scouts answered to the following cognomens:

Charles Cass, William Kephart, Tony Laird, Charles Kerlt, Harry Gardner, Bob Wilson, Samuel Ross, Guy Walker, Bert Trout, Harry VanScoyoc, and the driver, Authur Stiles, who held the ribbons over two massive prancing steeds, attached to a most gaily decorated wagon, legened as follows: "The Texas Rangers;" "We are the Hair Pins, who are you?" "The Living Pictures of Tyrone;" "Meals at all hours;" "Stop at Central Hotel when in Tyrone." The boys had with them as Mascott and protector the champion bull dog of Blair county, "Turk." The party were treated royally while in Bellefonte and doubtless will be all through their trip, and we certainly wish it to them as they are all "jolly good fellows."
